40 Killed As Plane Crashes In California

CONCORD, Calif. (AP)—The Contra Costa County sheriff's office reported 40 dead and no survivors in the crash today of a Pacific Airlines transport plane en route to San Francisco from Reno.

The report of 40 dead came from Sheriff's Sgt. Louis Skuse, at the scene on a ranch in the foothills 10 miles east of Concord.

Names of the crew and passengers aboard the twin-engine Fairchild F27 were not available.

The plane normally carried a crew of three—pilot, copilot and stewardess.

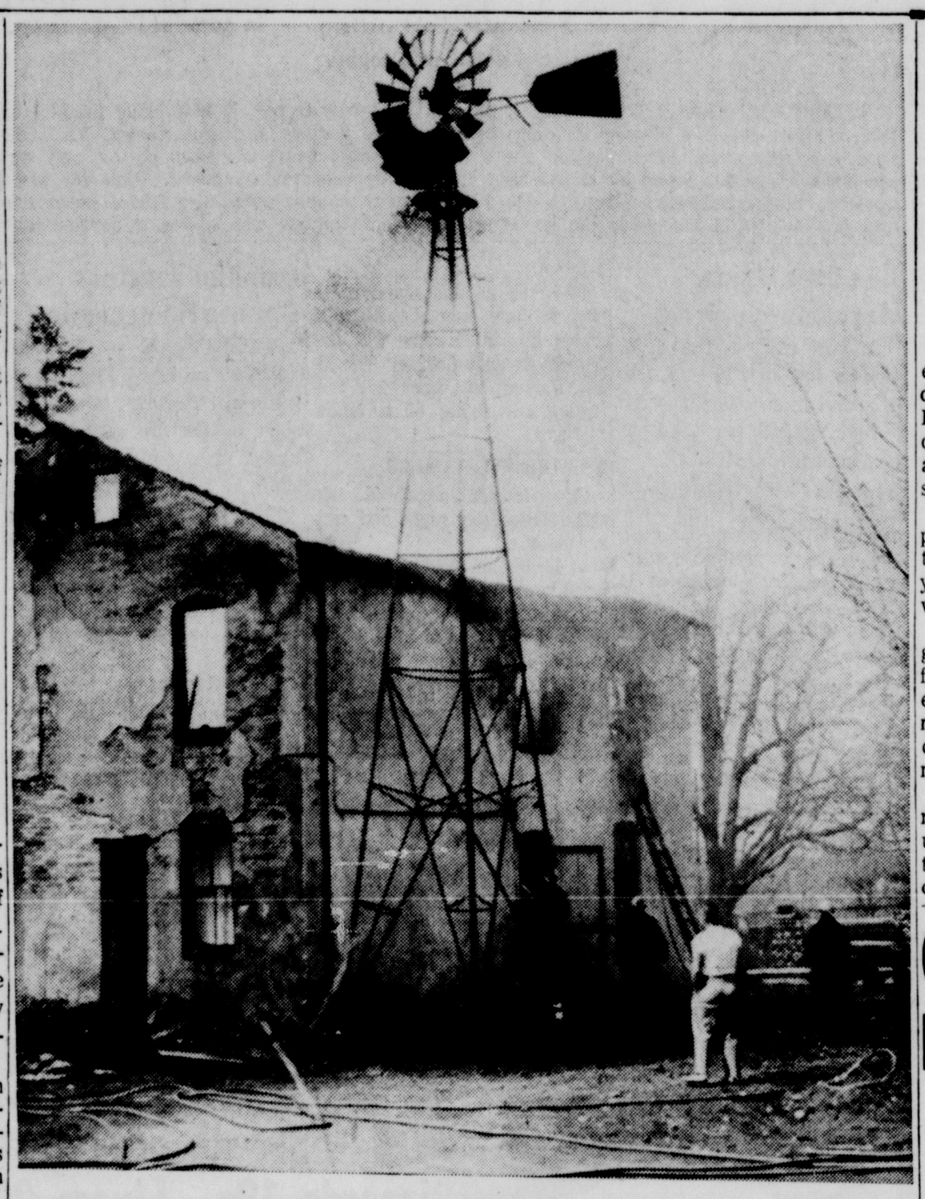

A Tasajero rancher, Gordon Rassmussen, said the "plane exploded into small bits. There wasn't a piece larger than a foot in diameter, except for the landing gear, after it hit."

Rassmussen said he saw the plane coming in and that it "faltered, there was a puff of smoke and it crashed a mile from my ranch."

The air controller's office at Oakland International Airport said the plane abruptly disappeared from its radar scopes.

Sheriff's officers closed off the area where wreckage was scattered widely.

The wreckage did not burn.

FIRE GUTS RURAL HOME — This News photo shows Beloit and Damascus firemen trying to quench a fire that destroyed the brick home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Michalk and their eight children on the Smith-Goshen Road, RD 2, Beloit, Wednesday morning. Only the charred brick walls of the large structure were left standing. Cause of the fire was undetermined. The family is staying with relatives in Alliance.

Ministers To Meet Next Week

NATO Reforms To Be Proposed

PARIS (AP)—Major reforms in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization reportedly will be urged at the spring meeting of the alliance's foreign ministers in the Hague next week.

The proposals reflect the wide political and military changes since 1949, when NATO was created to rally war-ravaged Western Europe in common defense against the threat of Communist aggression.

One possible effect would be to diminish the role of the United States and Britain in the 15-nation alliance.

In the forefront of those seeking a major shakeup in the NATO structure is French President Charles de Gaulle, who has long chafed under what he considers the alliance's Anglo-Saxon leadership. Informed sources said Wednesday that French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville will not make any specific recommendations.

But Couve de Murville is expected to expound De Gaulle's views, and West Germany and Italy may join France in seeking a larger voice in NATO, reflecting their postwar resurgence.

Officials doubt that any hard decisions will emerge next week. They say some questions raised may be taken up at a special meeting of the NATO defense ministers in July.

The only formal action likely in the Hague is an announcement that Manlio Brosio, Italy's ambassador to France, will succeed Dirk U. Stikker of the Netherlands as NATO secretary-general. Brosio formerly was Italy's ambassador in Washington. Stikker has announced he will resign Aug. 1 because of his health.

Sources in Paris said some members of the alliance—not necessarily France—will urge closer coordination between NATO's military and political planners. They may recommend transfer of the alliance's top military body, the standing group, from Washington to Paris, where the civilian permanent council sits.

Rights Backers Win First Test

Senate Rejects Trial Amendment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate sponsors of the civil rights bill have won their first test of strength, but it was a close call.

After four roll calls Wednesday night—one a 45-45 tie—the Senate rejected 46 to 45 a jury trial amendment to the measure.

The votes were the first on any of the nearly 100 amendments offered to the House-passed bill since the Senate's civil rights debate began on March 9.

The defeated amendment, called up by Sen. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky., would have provided for jury trials in criminal contempt of court cases arising out of antidiscrimination injunctons authorized by the bill.

It was opposed by the Johnson administration and the bill's sponsors, both Democrats and Republicans.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., leader of the Southern forces, said a variation of it is likely to be offered next week in an effort to reverse the outcome.

"I was disappointed in the vote," he said. "I thought we had enough to carry it. But the pressures were too great."

The vote was a bit too close for comfort for the other side. Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, GOP floor manager for the bill, called it distressing.

The vote left as the Senate's pending business a limited jury trial amendment proposed by the Senate's two leaders, Democrat Mike Mansfield and Republican Everett M. Dirksen.

Under this, defendants in criminal contempt cases growing out of the bill's endorcement provisions would be entitled to trial by jury only if the penalty was in excess of 30 days in jail or a $300 fine.

Mansfield told the Senate there was a possibility it would be voted on late Monday or early Tuesday, but he said no commitment had been obtained.

Southern foes can stave off a vote by continuing to talk against it. They can get a vote first on another amendment like Morton's if they offer one.

Anti-Litter Law Passed At Leetonia

By MRS. HOMER KRIDLER

LEETONIA — "Litterbugs" here are in for a rough time.

Village Council Wednesday night enacted an ordinance regulating the transportation and disposal of junk, refuse or garbage and setting a fine of $50 or 30 days in jail, or both, for offenders.

Disposal of refuse is permitted only on land provided by the zoning commission or as directed by a municipal official on special clean-up days.

In this connection, Mayor Ralph Kennedy has designed May 18-21 as "Clean-Up Week."

Village trucks will canvass the town, making pick-ups on the north end of town May 18 and 19, and south of the tracks on the 20th and 21st.

IN OTHER BUSINESS, Leetonia Council renewed the fire contract with Salem Township trustees at $1,600. The sum of $1,000 is to be paid by the trustees the first year and $300 each of the ensuing years.

Police Chief Allen Gibson was asked to draw up specifications and sketches for the repair and reinforcing of curbs and catch basins at the corners of High and Walnut and Lisbon and Columbia streets.

Because of dense foliage from trees, Council is considering prohibiting parking on the west side of Oak St. between Main and High streets.

Playground equipment is being erected in Wick park.

Mayor Kennedy reported his April office receipts of $179.10 from fines and violations and $65 in licenses. Bills totaling $4,403 were approved for payment.

When Council meets again May 20 action may be taken on purchase of a large mower for use in the city parks.

Beloit Picks Location For Sewage Plant

BELOIT — Village Council voted to retain an option on the Peterson property, located on Derr St., for the location of the proposed sewer disposal plant in a special meeting Wednesday. Council also set May 21 as the date for a public hearing on the entire sewage disposal system situation.

After hearing a report from L. J. Reimer, representing Reimer and Associates of Maumee, financial adviser on the project, who recommended that the village to stay within or near the village limits in construction of the plant in order to cut costs. Council voted in favor of retaining the option, despite protests of several residents regarding the proposed location.

Council then exercised the option with Jack Peterson, who signed it.

The public meeting is being planned to give an over-all picture of the entire situation. Present at the meeting, scheduled for 8 p.m. at Beloit Elemenary School, will be members of council, James Williams, village solicitor, Reimer, George Johnson of the Dastoli Engineering Co. of Youngstown, project engineer, and a member of the State Board of Health.

Residents are invited to attend.

City Tax Nets $115,602 In Four Months

The city income tax department has taken in $115,602.21 during the first four months of 1964, according to a report issued Wednesday by City Auditor Helen Coyne.

Mrs. Coyne reported that $56,862.64 was collected during the first three months for taxes owed from the last three months of 1963. A breakdown of the $56,862.64 shows $47,011.73 came from employers withholding; $4,001.67, from business finals and declarations and $5,849.24 in individual returns.

During April, $44,254.06 was taken in for employers withholding for the first three months of '64, $7,305.05 was received for business finals and declarations and $7,180.46 was collected on individual returns. The total for April collections was $58,739.57.

Of the total collected during the first quarter, $65,893.26 or 57 per cent was transferred to

'Mother of Year'

Wife of College President Wins Honor

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Cora Hjertaas Stavig, America's Mother of the Year for 1964, is a gracious bundle of energy who found love in her parents' home and took it with her into her own.

"There was a happiness there, a spiritual richness that kept the family a close one," she said. "It has continued in my home."

Mrs. Stavig, who at 63 still loves to ice skate, believes her home life as a child laid the foundation for her selection Wednesday as Mother of the Year. She was named by the American Mothers Committee from among nominees from the 50 states, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico.

She is the wife of Dr. Lawrence Stavig. president of Augustana College, a Lutheran school in Sioux Falls, S.D. She has raised four sons, and in the words of the citation:

"Foreign students from Hong Kong to Sierre Leone attend Augustana College and Mrs. Stavig becomes the foster mother of each of these."

Johnson, Lynch Nominated for Appellate Court

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — There were primary contests Tuesday in only three of the state Appellate Court's 10 districts.

In the 7th District, Democratic incumbent James G. France of Kent, unopposed in the primary, will face Republican Nils P. Johnson of Canfield in November for the unexpired term ending Feb. 8, 1967.

Johnson bested John A. Reddy of Sebring and Henry C. Robinson of Youngstown in the primary.

Another incumbent judge in that district, Republican George M. Jones of Youngstown, who was unopposed, faces Democrat John J. Lynch of Youngstown for the full term starting Feb. 9, 1965. Lynch defeated Paul J. Fleming of Youngstown.

In the only race in which both parties had a primary contest, the 4th District, attorney Gordon B. Gray of Athens, a Republican, will run against Democrat Warren S. Earhart of Ironton, a Lawrence County Common Pleas Court judge.

Gray defeated J. Earl Pratt of South Point and Earhart bested Forrest P. Moore of Logan.

There was a GOP primary race in the 3rd District. Republican incumbent George S. Middleton of Bellefontaine defeated J. Gareth Hitchcock of Paulding and Robert G. Payne of Findlay. Middleton faces John D. Harnishfeger of Lima in November.

Civil Service Hearing Held

Ex-Wellsville Chief Denies Taking Bribes

WELLSVILLE—John B. Hephner, ousted as Wellsville police chief April 7 on charges he accepted bribes, denied the testimony of his accuser, Robert Logan, 59, of Wellsville at an appeal hearing which opened Wednesday night before the Civil Service Commission.

Logan claims he made payoffs totaling $200 some years to Hephner in return for "favors."

Hephner is being defended by Atty. Frank Springer of East Palestine and Atty. Ben Berman of East Liverpool.

Presenting the case for the city are Atty. James Allisbon and Atty. Jack Cohen of East Palestine. Solicitor William Bush is in Osteopathic Hospital, East Liverpool, and is unable to handle the city's business.

Logan said he always paid the chief by check for a pinball license and in cash for the payoff. Logan said the two were given the chief in separate envelopes.

Logan said he never turned in the correct number of machines in operation and that the chief knew this. He said the payoffs were to avoid paying the city the remainder of the license fees.

Hephner denied ever having accepted any payoffs from anyone. He said he had refused to take a lie detector test as requested by Mayor William Daugherty because the machines are not reliable and the information is not admissable in court.

Passes Engineer, Solicitor Aide Measures

By LYNN BROWNE

In a move not completely unexpected, City Council Wednesday night overrode Mayor Dean B. Cranmer's vetoes of ordinances creating positions of assistant to the city engineer and assistant city solicitor.

The measures were originally passed on April 20 and will cost the city a maximum of $7,000 yearly in salaries. The mayor vetoed the legislation April 29.

The assistant to the city engineer will receive $4,500 the first year, with automatic raises of $250 per annum for the next two years. The assistant city solicitor will not be paid more than $2,000 yearly.

In a letter to Council, the mayor said he vetoed the measure creating the job of assistant to the city engineer because it does not designate specifically that the man holding the position is governed by the service director, who is in charge of the engineering department.

He also stated that he doesn't feel the man can "maintain regular office hours," as the ordinance prescribes and still fulfill the duties of zoning officer, which the measure also deeems necessary.

A move by Councilmen Harold Astry and Albert Lesch to tag an amendment to the ordinance, rewording the portions the mayor objected to, was defeated.

Councilman Charles Gibbs asserted that to add wording specifying that the man works for the service director would do nothing but "add to the confusion."

Councilman Jack Rance said that creating the position won't do any good "unless the people involved use good common sense."

"Regular Office Hours"

It was pointed out during the discussion that "regular office hours" does not mean that the employe must be in the office from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily. Regular office hours, it was explained, could be for only two hours a day with the remainder of the work day being spent in the field.

Rance moved that the measure be passed over the mayor's veto and Gibbs seconded the motion. Apparently resigned to the fact that the measure would carry, Lesch and Astry voted for the motion which carried unanimously. The legislation also passed unanimously when it was before Council on April 20.

Mayor Cranmer said in his letter vetoing the legislation authorizing Solicitor Tom Coe to hire an assistant that Coe knew what the job entailed when he ran for re-election. "I feel that if a person has knowledge of the problems, and campaigns to be elected, then he has to carry out the duties of the office to the end of the term to which he was elected," the mayor said.

Unaware of Tax Cases

Coe remarked that when he ran for office he was not aware that he would be required to handle a great volume of city income tax delinquency cases. The solicitor said the hiring of a part-time assistant solicitor is not an unusual step, pointing out that East Liverpool has both a part-time solicitor and a part-time assistant.

In reference to the mayor's charge that he should carry out the duties of the office to the end of his term, Coe stated that the mayor's office never had a clerk until Mayor Cranmer was elected. After Cranmer went out of office following his first term, the position was abolished and has never been created again.

Cast Dissenting Vote

Rance moved that the measure be passed and Councilman Michael Schuller seconded the motion. Harold Astry, who voted against the ordinance when it was brought up the first time, once again cast the only dissenting vote.

Both measures go into effect in 30 days.

In other action, Council passed ordinances:

1. Authorizing the service director to advertise for bids and enter into contract for the wid-

Council Maps Pay Hike Action

Plans Legislation To Cover Raises

The proposed pay hike for municipal workers moved another step closer as the result of action taken by City Council Wednesday night in authorizing legislation to cover the increases.

Councilman Michael Schuller submitted a report of the special committee which recommended a three per cent hike for nearly all employes and additional increases in positions where the committee feels there are inequities.

The entire salary boost is expected to cost the city more than $52,000 a year. The increases will not become effective until July 1. Solicitor Tom Coe was instructed to draw an ordinance granting the raises for Council's approval.

Under the plan, offices getting additional raises include lieutenants on the fire and police departments, the city engineer, the service director, and the clerk in the health department.

Schuller said these offices got special attention because they were not being paid enough in respect to other jobs in the departments. In one case, he said, the worker has not received an increase for numerous years because of "a personal conflict."

Eleven positions are not receiving increases at all under the proposed plan. They are the health commissioner, utilities superintendent, sanitarian, public nurse, safety director, humane officer, city stenographer, auditor, deputy auditor, mayor and eight school patrolmen.

Schuller said that it should be pointed out to the workers that the hike is not a stop-gap measure until something more can be done. "As far as we are concerned, this is it," he said.

"Each department is going to have to pare its spending to a figure below what they have been appropriated," he said. "The program is expected to cost more than $52,000 and we don't have that amount right now."

Under the program, the firemen's work week will be reduced from 72 to 56 hours a week but policemen will continue to work on a 48-hour week schedule.

Ex-Convict's Trail Yields Third Body

HILLSVILLE, Va. (AP)—FBI agents, following a trail from Massachusetts to Georgia through an ex-convict's use of stolen credit cards, have found the body of a missing eight-year-old New Jersey boy — the third such discovery in little more than a month.

Use of a credit card at a nearby service station led the FBI Wednesday to the location in mountainous terrain of a body they identified as that of David Wulff, last seen when he left his home April 1 in Willingboro, N.J., to attend a school function.

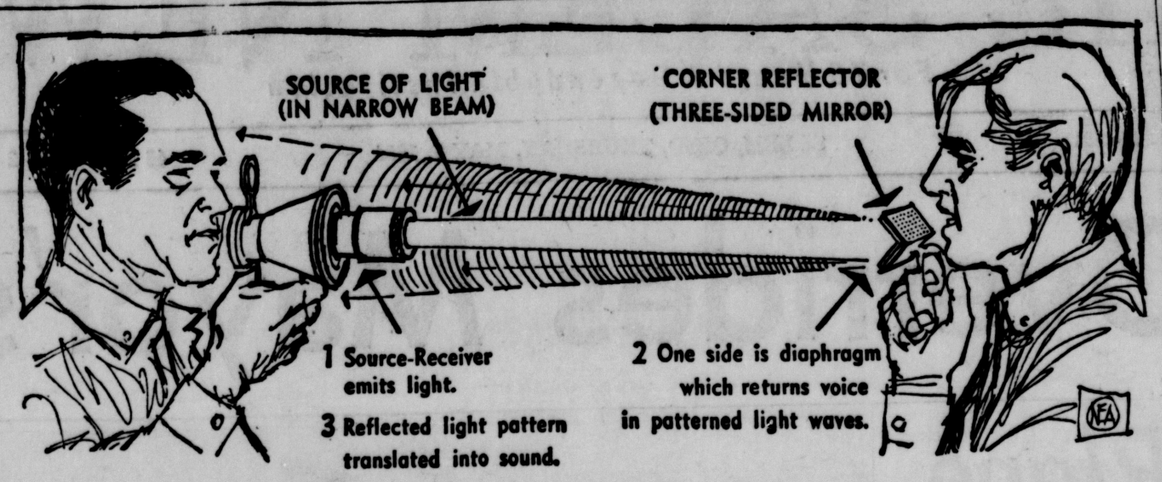

While medical authorities checked for the cause of the boy's death, police sought to link it with Joseph Francis Bryan Jr., 25, of Audubon, N.J., already in custody in Sumter, S.C. on charges of kidnaping two other boys.

Bryan, one of the FBI's 10 most wanted criminals when he was arrested last Tuesday in New Orleans, has been charged with kidnaping John David Robison, 10, of Mt. Pleasant, S.C., and Dennis Burke, 8, of Humboldt, Tenn.

The body of young Robison, who disappeared from his home Feb. 27, was found March 31 in a shallow grave near Hallandale, Fla. The Burke boy had not been harmed when he was found with Bryn at the time of his arrest. Dennis had been missing from his home for four days.

St . Petersburg, Fla., authorities have sought to link Bryan also with the March 23 disappearance there of Lewis (Hackie) Wilson, 7. The child's body was found last Thursday in a palmetto grove at Venice, Fla., near a spot the FBI has learned Bryan got stuck in the sand.

Bryan was arraigned Monday in New Orleans on the kidnaping charge in the Robison case and was returned to South Carolina to face court action.

TALKING BY FLASHLIGHT — Light, the stuff that lets us see, is now being used to help us talk. A device to make this possible, called a Retrometer, has been built at Langley Research Center, Va., for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. As illustration above shows, a light beam is broken up into new wave lengths and returned beams are transformed into sound by means of a light-sensitive electronic receiver. While the scientific principle is not new, the use of a "corner reflector" mirror to return the beam is an innovation. The mirror keeps the beam concentrated on the return journey. NASA has made the invention available to anyone who wishes to develop it.

Bliss Sues Union After Canton Strike

CANTON (AP) — The E. W. Bliss Co. has gone to U. S. District court in an attempt to end a strike which has idled its plant here for a week.

In a suit filed Monday against Canton Local 4396, United Steelworkers of America, the company seeks a preliminary injunction to force the union to submit to arbitration and to comply with contract provisions relative to settling grievances.

The company also seeks $25,000 damages for each day of the strike.

Judge James C. Connell has set a hearing on the suit for May 15.

Both the company and union officials have termed the strike, which has idled some 600 employes, as unauthorized. The local walked out April 29, protesting the firing of a fellow member.

The group decided to hold a parade during the two-day event and scheduled a meeting with other homecoming organizational leaders for 8 tonight at the township hall to make further plans.

Ralph Cox, trustees president, read a letter from the Motorola Corp. advising the trustees that two-way radios ordered for the fire truck and emergency car will be shipped May 16.

Bills of $55.49 were ordered paid. The next meeting will be June 3.

Health Questions And Answers

Q—How much whisky must I consume to have alcohol show in a blood test? How much would justify a drunk driving charge?

Dr. Brandstadt

A — Since the alcohol you drink is eliminated fairly rapidly the amount in the blood depends in part on the amount of time that has elapsed since your last drink. If the only whisky you consumed was ¾ of an ounce and you had taken it within an hour or less of the blood test, your blood alcohol level would be 1-100th of 1 per cent. There would be no appreciable effect on your behavior or your driving ability.

With one ounce, the level would be 2-100th of 1 per cent, and the alcohol would begin to affect your judgment.

With two or three ounces, the level would be 1-20th of 1 per cent, and you might be inclined to address some injudicious cracks to the police officer. Officially, however, you would still be considered sober but very close to the borderline of drunkenness. With five or six ounces the level would be 1-10th of 1 per cent, and you would be too sloshed to drive a car until you had sobered up.

Q—I have taken Bonadoxin for dizziness for about three months with good results. I would like to know what side effects might occur. Is this drug habit-forming? Will it lose its effectiveness if I continue to take it?

A—Bonadoxin is a combination of meclizine, an antihistamine that is especially useful in controlling dizziness and motion sickness, and pyridoxine, a part of the vitamin B complex that sometimes helps to control nausea.

Side effects such as drowsiness, dry mouth, and blurred vision occur only when large doses are taken. The drug is not habit-forming and it should not lose its effectiveness on prolonged use.

Q I have been taking Vistaril for an overactive thyroid. What side effects might there be?

A—Vistaril is a brand of hydroxyzine pamoate. It is one of the antihistamines and it is used to reduce nervous tension. In the usually prescribed dosage it can be safely used for prolonged periods. In some persons it causes drowsiness and dryness of the mouth.

Q—I have heard that taking one teaspoonful of vinegar after the noon and evening meal will cause you to lose weight. Is this true and is it harmful?

A—In order to reduce you must take in fewer calories than you use up. Since vinegar furnishes no calories it will put no weight on you. If it reduces your appetite it might help you to lose weight and in the amount suggested it would not be harmful.

An Imminent Pulitzer Danger

There can be no dissent from the Pulitzer judges' decisions on newspaper awards this year. Inside and outside the newspaper business, it is taken for granted the judges always can find enough outstanding merit to justify the award of these coveted prizes to the working press.

But there will be strong dissent from the judges' decision to omit awards in fiction, drama and music in 1964. The judges are flirting with disaster when they render negative judgment in this manner.

An imminent Pulitzer danger is that personal pique and bias may destroy the intent of Joseph Pulitzer. The prizes he put in the keeping of the trustees of Columbia University, acting on information furnished by an advisory commission, were to go to the most deserving in various fields of endeavor. Merit is relative, not absolute, in any given year.

The late Sinclair Lewis sized it up bitterly when his novel "Arrowsmith" was chosen because it represented the "whole-though "Main Street" and "Babbitt" had been passed over previously. He refused to accept the prize.

This year's prize for fiction obviously would have had to be given to some author with a better book to his credit than John O'Hara's "Elizabeth Appleton," which its author presumably would rank below his other works, all of them ignored by the Columbia trustees. So no fiction prize was given.

Will there be a year when the trustees will find nothing of merit in any Pulitzer Prize category—a year in which all the seed will have fallen on barren soil?

Really? No Claws At All?

One belief current in Washington is that a Russian "detente" in Cuba may have left the island with no "claws." Associated Press reports this.

The Russians, it is believed, may have taken out their ground-to-air missiles—the ones that can shoot down U.S. spy planes—the high-flying U-2 models that formerly flew over Russia.

Another belief is that no more than 3,000 Russian troops now remain on the island.

If such beliefs could be proved true, they would justify a wishful thought that the Soviet Union actually has disbanded what had been turned into a Communist bastion in October 1962.

But wishful thoughts are no foundation for national policy.

U.S. Rep. Frank T. Bow, R-Ohio, says "intelligence sources" indicate Cuba's military strength is second only to that of the United States in the Wesern Hemisphere.

He says Cuba has more than 150 coastal defense missiles, 12 missile-launching torpedo boats, 500 surface-to-air missiles, 200 modern radar stations, 75,000 regular troops and 200,000 militia.

He seems to be suggesting that what may have happened in Cuba is something like the withdrawal of the Greeks from the siege of Troy, leaving behind that big, innocent, apparently harmless wooden horse.

Under the circumstances, it seems more prudent to line up with Rep. Bow than with the people who seem to want to believe the Soviet Union is so eager to please the United States it has removed everything from Cuba that could inflict damage. Does Russia trust and love us that much?

The Stage Is Set

The lack of contests notwithstanding, local voters joined other Columbiana countians in exercising their voting privileges at the Republican and Democratic primaries Tuesday. The total county vote of 16,696 and the city vote of 2,093 was slightly higher than anticipated and, in fact, above the comparable election two years ago.

When fall comes, the successful candidates will renew their campaigns for the elective county offices, with contests assured for all but coroner. Interestingly, four veterans will vie for commissioner, incumbents Galen Greenisen and Walter A. Hueston, both Republicans, and two former commissioners, Max Gard and Frank Wilson. An exciting election shapes up for Nov. 3.

School Levies Vital

Voters in three Columbiana County school districts gave overwhelming approval to necessary operating levies in Tuesday's primary balloting, but patrons in Beaver Local and Southern Local failed to support similar propositions.

Just what action these two unfortunate school districts are now forced to take remains to be seen, but Beaver Local already is in a retrenchment program because of a similar levy rejection last November. Southern Local, a comparatively new district with a new high school, can't operate without adequate revenue anymore than could United Local, Columbiana and East Liverpool which gave a hearty stamp of approval to special propositions.

Beagle Incident

By Truman Twill

Before our bleeding hearts exhaust themselves over a presidential pulling of beagle ears, a few things should be taken into consideration.

There is more pulling and hauling done to pampered pooches in dog shows than anything Lyndon B. Johnson did to his beagles on the White House lawn. Handlers lift up dogs by the tails and the scruff of the neck, jerk them with leashes and make them hold up their heads with clouts on the chin.

No one who knows how hunting dogs are trained to stop on command and hold a point can bat an eye about lifting up a beagle by its ears to make it bark. These are, after all, beagles living in the highest style to which any beagle in the United States ever had a chance to grow accustomed. They are not abused.

They are pets of a family that likes animals and knows how to take care of them. Nothing bad could have been happening to a brace of tail-waggers like Him and Her that romp up to greet the head man the way these two greet Mr. Johnson.

THERE WAS NOT, in short, any abuse of the dogs. Most of us would not pick up a dog by its ears. But when it comes to that, most of us would not pick up a dog by its tail, either, though this is commonplace among professional dog handlers. Some of us wouldn't pick up a cat by the scruff of the neck, though that is the way a mother cat picks up her kittens.

For all we know, a beagle may like to have its ears used as handles. President Johnson thinks so, and he has a right to his opinion.

Being in politics of course he shouldn't have offended bleeding hearts looking for a chance to second-guess other people abut the way they treat animals. But being a free citizen of the United States, he has a right to be offended by the hubbub he caused when he hoisted his beagles by their ears.

Of course he won't say anything—being in politics.

BUT IF ONE of his constituents may be permitted to say something, "Nuts."

There have been no objections from the beagles, first of their kind to have it so good in the executive mansion.

There are no objections from dog handlers, whose hearts do not bleed easily for the animals they handle professionally.

There are no objections from Americans fed up with bleeding heart, to say nothing of snipers, snoopers and carpers who make a profession of pouncing on every little thing a chief executive does, in the hope of magnifying it out of proportion.

A few weeks ago they had a hemmorrhage when Mr. Johnson drove faster than 70 miles an hour in his own car, on his own road, on his own ranch. They tried to build this up into a big thing, with the willing assistance of the President's political opponents.

As we said before, "Nuts."

"I don't mind your running into me, but did you have to say, 'that's the way the cooky crumbles'?"

"--- an' Stop Saying, 'That Ain't Hay!' "

Labor Probes Spread

By VICTOR RIESEL

Never before have so many attorneys in the Justice Department's Criminal Division found themselves so overburdened with investigations of labor leaders in districts ranging from New York to Alaska and from Hawaii to Florida — and in literally hundreds of communities in between. There were an astounding 1,870 investigations of violations of both the Taft-Hartley law and the Labor-Management Reporting and Disclosure Act launched in 1963.

Victor Riesel

This indicates that there is an obvious need for the AFL-CIO national leaders to revive their self - policing Ethical Practices Committee if they are to avert the revival of the "sticky finger" era of scandals which inspired at least five major rackets probes in the past decade or so.

Authority for the startling statistics is the publicity shy Assistant Attorney General Herbert Miller, chief of the Justice Department's Criminal Division.

IN OFF - THE - RECORD sessions with a congressional group recently, Miller disclosed that this was just the beginning.

"This number," he said, referring to the alleged violations which now have hurtled well past the 2,000 mark, "will increase in succeeding years, as reports of investigation are now being received from the Bureau of Labor-Management Reports."

If the Criminal Division's charges are valid, apparently nothing is sacred, not even public education. One case, though it is now more than a year old, has been lost to sight. In it the federal government has charged a band of local union officers with conspiring to deprive school boards of considerable cash.

THIS INDICTMENT involved a group of powerful New York Plumbers Union officials who lead the men necessary for construction worth billions of dollars. On April 22, 1963, the Justice Department obtained an indictment of the three leaders of the Plumbers locals on charges of conspiring to rig bids offered to the New York Board of Education. The government has alleged that the three unionists—officers of Local 2, Local 371 and Local 1, respectively — worked out the scheme with five plumbing contractors in the big city.

When the Justice Department went before the grand jury in this case, it revealed that the contractors had submitted a bid of $3,893,994 for plumbing work in a number of much needed public schools. The assistant U.S. attorney in charge of the case told the jury that this bid was 20 per cent higher than it should have been — or, according to him, it was padded by $778,799.

Then the government went on to assert that the contractors and the union officials had conspired to cut up the extra money if the bid should be favorably received.

OF THE TOTAL sum, it was charged, $116,000 was to be shared by Jack Cohen, president of the powerful Local 2; Benjamin Schabert, business agent and financial secretary of Local 371, and Joseph Slotkiss, business agent of Local 1. There can be very little construction in New York City without the cooperation of these three Plumbers and Pipefitters Unions.

Two days later the government indicted Cohen and three other officials of the same Local 2 on charges of accepting $4,310 from a plumbing contractor in violation of Taft-Hartley. The Justice Department has alleged that the money was paid by the contractor to avoid labor difficulties during work on two public schools and a low rent public housing project.

The accused union men "demanded" the money, Robert Morgenthau, U. S. attorney for New York's Southern District, said at the time of the indictment. The rates were set on the basis of a small percentage of the total plumbing contract price, according to the government.

These are but two cases on the federal records.

THE COUNTRY has been so absorbed by the assorted indictments and convictions of the Teamsters, that it has overlooked hundreds of other government actions. Many of these moves have been against other construction unions, but indictments — and convictions — are not, by far, limited to the building trades.

In the construction field there was, for example, the indictment of two former officials of two roofers' locals. One case involved embezzlement and making false entries on the books, while the second centered around extortion attempts.

Elsewhere in the building field, there are the convictions of Ross Williams, president of Miami's Hod Carriers Local 478, and Leonard Bragg, financial secretary of the local. Ross was convicted of false reporting and Bragg of embezzlement.

In Sumter, S.C., three former officials of Furniture Workers' Local 273 were sentenced to prison after pleading guilty to embezzlement and other charges.

An examination of scores of cases discloses that stolen funds, such as in the case of the furniture local, ranged from more than $11,000 down to $2,000. If the amount involved in all the cases were added together, the total would run into the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

This money comes from men who toil hard for their daily bread. If the local officials want to eat cake, and live high, they must not be permitted to exploit those who work for their money.

Drinking Sanely

By HARRIET STIX
Herald Tribune News Service

NEW YORK — The surest way to avoid becoming an alcoholic is to have the right parents. The best kind to have are first or second generation Chinese, Orthodox Jews or Italians and fathers who are neither fishermen nor farmers.

Our authority is Dr. Milton Silverman, director of medical research for the Wine Advisory Board of California. A function of the board, which is an agency of the state, not the wine industry, is to investigate why some people can handle their liquor while others cannot.

The people who can't handle it turn out to be Swedes, Finns, Norwegians, Irish, northern Frenchmen and northern Russians. (And those fishermen and farmers.)

'It's," says Dr. Silverman, "primarily a northern thing. People along the Mediterranean, for example, drink more, yet get into trouble less."

How much you drink is not nearly as important as what you drink—how much alcohol gets into your blood and how rapidly. Some drinks, like vodka, get into the bloodstream much more quickly than, say, sherry; liquor hits quicker on an empty stomach. Italians who drink wine with dinner are bound to be better off than three - martinis - before - dinner New Yorkers.

THE "SAFE" groups, Dr. Silverman says, produce few alcoholcis, rarely even get very drunk. Yet alcohol is a part of their culture.

They introduce their children to alcohol very early. It is not uncommon for a 6-year-old to be drinking highly diluted wine. But, and this is most important, drink is always taken in a family setting. The child gets used to having alcohol with meals, as a food, and not at other times.

"Some where between the ages of 7 and 9, the kid gets stoned—not high, drunk," Dr. Silverman says. "This is usually after a family party. The kid will go around the table and drink up what remains in all the glasses."

For this he is neither praised nor blamed, Dr. Silverman says. He is simply told that big boys never take too much of anything. In general, there is neigher virtue nor sin connected with drinking.

In high-risk communities, people are more likely to drink to prove something. In Brittany, which has the world's highest rate of alcoholics, boys drink to prove they are men.

"If a 10- or 12-year-old can't hold his Calvados, it's considered a family disgrace," Dr. Silverman says.

In safe countries, it is not considered funny or smart to be drunk in public. "You are a slob," says Dr. Silverman. In high-risk countries it is acceptable.

IN SWEDEN researchers looking for a cure for hangovers have so far found only one: More alcohol. But the cure can produce excessive drinkers.

Dr. Silverman is not very optimistic about the chances of eliminating alcoholism. To do so would mean changing our social patterns, an important factor in drinking and alcoholism.

Second and third generation Italians, for example, who begin drinking martinis before dinner rather than wine with, seem to lose the ability to nold liquor their parents had.

But Dr. Silverman points out that fewer Americans who drink are alcoholics now than 100 years ago: 2 per cent as compared to about 30 per cent.

There are, Dr. Silverman wryly notes, disadvantages to learning to drink sanely. His own son, a college sophomore who got used to alcohol in a diluted form at home, wishes he had never learned to hold his beer. Now he spendings all his time pouring fraternity brothers into bed.

Era of Confusion

By DAVID LAWRENCE

David Lawrence

This period may go down in history as the "era of confusion." For many people do not seem to know from one day to another just what is "the law of the land." Nor is it clear any more what laws have to be obeyed. The Methodist Church, for instance, at its general conference has just approved a report declaring that Christians, when called upon to obey "unjust or immoral" laws, should instead follow their consciences and "obey God."

Similar sentiments have been voiced by two Negro preachers of prominence, Martin Luther King and Rep. Adam Clayton Powell. But when Governors Barnett of Mississippi and Wallace of Alabama decided to ignore a court order and act according to their consciences, they were immediately denounced as "racists" or "extremists" or as "lawless" individuals.

The resolution adopted by the Methodists was offered by the Rev. Harold A. Bosley of New York and his committee on Christian Social Concerns. It reads as follows:

"In some instances, where legal recourse is unavailable or inadequate for redress of grievances from laws or their applications that, on their face, are unjust or immoral, the Christian conscience will obey God rather than man."

RESISTANCE to law has been frequent in the racial controversy in recent months. Disobedience has been encouraged in the form of street demonstrations, sit-ins, stall-ins and lie-ins. It has been openly asserted by the leaders of various groups that an individual has a right to decide for himself what is an unjust law.

Much of the difficulty, it has been said, will be erased if the civil rights bill is passed, because many of the points hitherto not covered by law with respect to racial discrimination will be subject to enforcement by the federal authorities. Here, many difficulties present themselves, for the courts will take some time before they will pass upon the constitutionality of many of the provisions of the civil rights bill when it does become law.

Meanwhile, every individual has the right to test any law as to its constitutionality. If he is wrong, he must be punished but this doesn't deter even governors of states from taking the risks involved.

WITH RESPECT to desegregation of public schools, for example, the action taken by the Supreme Court of the United States this week in a case involving "racial imbalance" in the public schools of Gary, Ind., has produced some disappointment among the ranks of Negro leaders, because "racial imbalance" was not ruled to be illegal or unconstitutional.

The Supreme Court refused to review the case and thus it let stand the ruling of the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals that there was no obligation to abandon the neighborhood school to attain a better racial balance.

The school authorities in Gary, Ind., had transferred students from overcrowded schools and in one instance there were 120 Negroes among the 140 students transferred from a predominantly Negro school to a predominantly white school. This was not considered adequate by the Negro organizations which took the case to court.

The plaintiffs had based their case, in the words of the Circuit Court opinion, "on their fundamental theory that their right to be integrated in school is such an over-riding purpose that little, if any, consideration need be given to the safety of the children, convenience of pupils and their parents and costs of the operation of the school system."

THE PLAINTIFFS also arguged that in the 1954 desegregation decision of the Supreme Court of the United States segregated public education was held to be incompatible with the requirements of the 14th Amendment. In the Gary case, the Circuit Court of Appeals agreed that "there is no affirmative U.S. constitutional duty to change innocently arrived at school attendance districts by the mere fact that shifts in population either increase or decrease the percentage of either Negro or white pupils."

Many instances of "racial imbalance" have been noted in public schools in different parts of the North as well as in the South, and the Gary case is an example of where schools were predominantly one race or the other by natural circumstances and there were no efforts made, in districting the schools, to discriminate by reason of race or color.

While the Supreme Court itself has held that segregation in public schoos "solely on the basis of race" is wrong, it has never ruled in favor of compulsory integratoin to correct "imbalance."

SPOKESMEN for the Negro organizations say that, while they have not gained their point in the Gary case, they hope that, in some other case which they will bring before the high court, a different decision may be handed down.

That is why in this "era of confusion" it is difficult from one day to another for the citizens to know exactly what "the law of the land" is likely to be on racial questions and maybe that is one reason why the street demonstrations have not been abandoned.

Speaking of Automa'ion

One of the big questions we are confronted with today is automation and the control of it.

The word automation is defined as "automatic motion." When you think back, automation is as old as man. It started when man killed animals for meat with his bare hands. Then he advanced to bow and arrow, from there to spears, etc.

If it weren't for automation Columbus would not have discovered America. Or to update the situation, the telephone. The very concept was automation: A voice being automatically heard in another place.

How and why would we tell the inventor to stop inventing and the scientist to go back to the farm and the surgeon he could not have his automatic heart (the heart that might save your life)?

By automation, rockets were formed and Cape Kennedy was built. If we curtailed automation by one per cent we would throw thousands of self-supporting people into unemployment offices.

The primary reason for automation is to support the increase of population in the free world we live in.

In the over-all picture, you could say God was the greatest automation engineer. He put the universe into motion.

Automation could be considered as a series of things God has allowed man to discover. So why should any man try to control it, and how?

SHAKY WORLD — Superimposed over a map of the world are the earthquake belts, those areas where earthquakes are most likely to occur. This map evolved through the years largely through the efforts of men such as F. de Montesseu de Ballore who plotted some 160,000 earthquakes on a map and arrived at a configuration similar to that of the newsmap above. Earthquakes happen in these areas because of a sharp fracture or break in the earth's crust along these broad lines.

Capital To Honor Truman

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY

WASHINGTON (AP) — History takes an intriguing turn today as Harry S. Truman, on the eve of his 80th birthday, heads into town and toward a billet at Blair House, the mansion for the nation's most distinguished guests.

Well does the former president know this famous old home on Pennsylvania Avenue. It was there he lived in the early 1950s while the sagging White House was being rebuilt from top to bottom. And it was there that wild Puerto Rican revolutionaries stormed the door in a bloody but unsuccessful attempt to assassinate him.

President Johnson figured it is not every day that a former president about to turn 80 hits town. So he invited Truman to stay at the Blair House, which is usually reserved for kings, queens and oil-rich sheiks.

The President telephoned advance birthday greetings to Truman Wednesday.

He began the conversation with a jest, saying: "I wanted to call collect, but Lady Bird wouldn't let me. I only have change enough for three minutes."

"I will tell you what I will do," replied Truman. "I will accept it as collect."

Johnson told Truman he was "one of our greatest national assets" and added: "When you blow out those candles, Mr. President, I hope you think of all the lights you have turned on during 80 years. They are still burning in Greece and Turkey and Western Europe and the Far East and in the hearts of your countrymen."

Responded Truman: "I don't think we have had a better president in a hundred years than we have right now, and I am tickled to death with him."

After lunching and sprucing up at the Blair House, Truman had a date tonight with District of Columbia Masons. At a dinner he is to get the award for distinguished service from the Grand Lodge of the district.

Friday Truman speaks at a luncheon of the National Press Club and then foregathers at dinner with members of the old Truman senatorial investigating committee. This was the committee which, in its quiet way, did so much to keep the U.S. war effort on the beam during World War II.

Salem Area Youths In Mount's Brass Choir

The Mount Union College music department is adding to an outstanding reputation with this year's formation of a unique musical group.

Music seldom heard in the past 200-300 years is being performed by the Mount Union College Brass Choir.

Directed by Prof. Carl H. Kandel, the brass choir is one of about 10 in the entire state, few of whom have presented church concerts as the Mount Union group has done.

FOUR AREA RESIDENTS are among the 15 "charter" members of the brass choir: Donna Denny, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jay E. Denny, RD 2, Salem; Paul and Richard Hobe, sons of Dr. and Mrs. Paul Hobe, RD 2, Beloit; and William Capper, son of Mr. and the late Mrs. J. Ralph Capper of Carrollton.

Much of the brass choir music was written in the 15th and 16th centuries — sacred music primarily in Italy and secular music primarily in Germany where it was called "tower music" because it was played atop tall towers around a city.

It went through a long period of decline because few composers worked in that medium and, as a result, few people knew of its availability.

Robert King is generally credited with brass choir music's revival through creation of a publishing house specializing in it.

Perhaps a factor also in its popularity now is that it offers a challenge musicians do not find in playing with other types of groups, according to Prof. Kandel.

-:-

THE BRASS CHOIR has performed on campus, presented church concerts in Minerva, Elyria, and Chatuaqua, N.Y., and recorded radio programs for Alliance and Cleveland stations.

This evening it is performing as a featured group for the annual Hymn Festival at the Alliance St. Paul's Lutheran Church. It is open to the public.

Success of this year's venture seems certain to enable the brass choir to gain its own place among Mount Union's musical organizations.

Hints From Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise: What causes small holes in my linens? Some of them are less than two months old.

FLORA.

DEAR FLORA: We have taken this up with the president of the Manufacturers Laundry Association, Gunther Baumgart. He has had home economists do research on this so far as we know:

The first reaction is that the customer has misued bleach. If bleach has been used correctly a further explanation is difficult.

They enclosed such technical data that I will try to simplify it for you as follows:

Household bleaches used full strength for cleaning purposes can seriously weaken the fibers in a cleaning cloth or dish rag, unless the bleach is thoroughly rinsed out.

Furthermore, other fabrics t come in contact with the cleaning cloth can also be damaged.

FURTHER DAMAGE to other fabrics may result from contact with the un-rinsed cleaning cloth. For example, if you pour pure household bleach on your dishcloth for bleaching your sink, then drop it into a laundry hamper or a laundry bag, any cellulose fabric that comes in contact with this cleaning cloth will be weakened by the remaining bleach.

This cloth may stay in your laundry hamper for a few days. It's impossible to see what damage it has done to other fibers which have been in contact with the cleaning cloth until it is washed! Then, when the linen is washed the weak fibers in your sheets will crumple and float away leaving little holes and tiny tears.

Your washcloth will have more damage but this is immaterial to you as it only costs a few cents. And your sheets were quite expensive.

CHECK UP on how you use your bleach and see if you are following the directions on the bottle or box, whether it is liquid or dry bleach.

Another thing which causes holes in laundry is that you just might happen to have a rough spot in either your washing machine or the drier, which will cause snagging and damage, too. Never overload your machine.

This is valuable information we have received from the Home Laundry Manufacturers' Association and we are most grateful for it.

HELOISE.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

you've got the best column in the paper, so here's my hint for those of us gals who are single or for the more romantic wife: It's a way to eliminate the miserable odor of onions and garlic on your hands when peeling them.

Try inserting your hands in plastic bags, bind at the wrist with rubber bands, then cut those smelly things! I tried this and it works and I think I'm wonderful for thinking of it.

KAY WARE.

Honey, I think you're wonderful, too. Keep that romance in your eyes.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: For those who are interested in drying the inside of bottles, decanters, etc.

I wash my bottles and then rinse them immediately with rubbing alcohol!

After sloshing the alcohol around in the bottle I pour it out and leave the top off. The alcohol evaporates and no moisture remains. My bottles and decanters are sparkling clean.

LOYCE JENKINS.

DEAR HELOISE: When opening a box of cake flour, biscuit mix, cream of wheat or any similar item which comes in a box, I IMMEDIATELY pour the contents into a plastic bag, seal it tightly, and return it to boxes which can be put on any shelf. It's a wonderful preventive measure.

MRS. HAROLD SULLIVAN.

DEAR HELOISE: I have heard so many people say that they do not have time to hang socks in pairs. If they don't they are wasting a lot more time and it is so foolish.

Nothing is easier than my way of hanging socks on a clothesline. If the next sock you pick up from your basket is not the mate, just pin up an extra clothespin and leave the "spare" until you pick up the correct mate.

MILDRED HARRIGAN.

DEAR HELOISE: Instead of buying expensive clothes rollers and delinters, my husband bought a 3-inch paint roller for 29c and a roll of 3-inch masking tape. By wrapping the masking tape around and around the paint roller (inside out) you have a clothes delinter that works beautifully, especailly on those sticky dog hairs.

The initial cost of the masking tape might be a little high but the roll of tape will last for ages and ages.

JANE K.

DEAR HELOISE: For housewives who do not have clothes driers. . . .

I attachee my old curtain stretcher to the rafters of the basement and hang al our anklets and socks on it. Hang one sock on each pin and they will dry quickly, and you eliminate the back-breadking job of picking up clothespins.

And you should see how many things that curtain stretcher will hold. . . .

MRS. V. McGOVERN.

DEAR HELOISE: As I remove an article of clothing from a hanger, I always return the empty hanger to the far end of the rod where only empty hangers are kept. When I need one, I get it from there. Saves looking between all your clothes for an empty hanger.

-:-

Nan, why do the simplest things escape us? What I like best about this idea is all the time saved by being able to reach into the closet and tqke out a handful of hangers when I am ready to iron. . . no more groping and knocking clothes off hangers.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I had some faded artificial flowers. I sprayed them with gold paint (and some silver spray paint) and used them for ornaments.

These gold artificial flowers are very cute for decorating gifts. They could also be pinned on a curtain for added beauty.

O.E.G.

Reds Split Into Two Camps, Experts Say

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

New developments in the Moscow-Peking dispute make virtually inescapable the conclusion that communism is finally and irrevocably split into two main camps.

Premier Khrushchev is under pressure to call an international Communist conference in June or July in a last effort to avert the division. But it is likely such a meeting would only confirm that the split is a fact.

Red-ruled Romania has been trying feverishly to mediate the dispute but seems about ready to give up.

The Romanian party's April statement on the schism bemoaned a Red Chinese contention that "in conditions now prevailing in the Communist movement, a split both on the international plane and within various parties becomes necessary and unavoidable." The party said what Peking is doing "means to call for a split."

Infuriated, Khrushchev's Soviet party has delivered two new Sunday punches at the Red Chinese, both on the same theme: Red China is trying to break out of isolation and throw its weight around in capitalist countries. It turned heavy propaganda artillery on Chinese pretensions to leadership of a new world bloc.

The Soviet party fired a barrage on this subject in the March issue of its theoretical journal, Kommunist. It renewed the attack in the journal's lates issue, out this week.

Kommunist accused the Chinese last month of trying to set up an "intermediate zone" which, by implication, would regard the Soviet Union and the United States with equal hostility.

This week Kommunist accused the Chinese of playing up to capitalists in Western Europe and Japan and dealing with governments which are members of Western alliances.

The Chinese idea, say the Russians, is that Communists should zero in on the United States as the main enemy, and that thus it is possible to seek support even among U.S. allies.

The Russians insist this is wrong, that not only the United States is the enemy, but all "imperialists."

The Russians, too, seem to conclude that Peking has passed the point of no return in the dispute. Moscow accuses Peking of putting together its own program for world revoluion in a "25-point platform" counterposed against the Soviet plan for gloal victory.

This "frankly anti-Soviet" Chinese program, says Kommunist, exploits national prejudices, sets race against race and East against West, regardless of Communist or capitalist rule.

Bandits Get $10,000 In Coin, Gun Collections

FREMONT, Ohio (AP)—Four hooded men forced their way into a private home here early Wednesday, tied up Mr. and Mrs. John Ziegler and their two daughters and left with coin and gun collections valued at more than $10,000, the Sandusky County sheriff's office reported.

Authorities said the men, wearing green and black hoods, spent nearly three hours ransacking the home. They took six suitcases of old gold coins, reportedly weighing a total of more than 500 pounds, several small guns from a collection, about $35 in cash and some clothing.

Carpenter Serenades Office Employes

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Workers in a downtown office building went to the windows when they heard a rich baritone voice singing "Because of You."

It was John A. Giardina, a carpenter, giving one of his frequent lunch-hour concerts Wednesday for co-workers on a construction project.

Giardina, a onetime performer with the Buffalo Civic Orchestra, also sang "O Sole Mio" and other songs and arias.

County TB Director Issues April Report

There are 18 patients in hospitals, with 11 at county expense.

The county had 147 patients on medication during the month, the report showed.

AME Urged To Act In Rights Movement

CINCINNATI (AP) — Delegates to the 37th convention of the African Methodist Episcopal Church heard greetings from the governor of West Virginia Wednesday night after a leading bishop urged them to become more active in the civil rights movement.

Gov. W. W. Barron of West Virginia was the only one of three governors able to appear before the convention.

"The evergrowing and helpful effect of religious action in the complexities of modern government continues to strengthen the basic fabric of our society," Barron said.

Speaks at Ohio University

LBJ Begins Tour to Enlist Support for Poverty Fight

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—President Johnson said today "our challenge—not tomorrow but today—is to accomplish objectives which have eluded mankind since the beginning of time."

In a speech prepared for delivery at Ohio University, Johnson said we must:

—"Bring equal justice to all our citizens,

—"Abolish human poverty,

—"Eradicate killing and crippling diseases, and lengthen the life span of man to 100 or 120 years,

—"Eliminate illiteracy,

—"End open bias and active bigotry.

—"And, above all else, help to bring about a day 'when nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more.'"

The visit to Athens was an interlude in a 30-hour whirl through Appalachia, Johnson's second such tour in 13 days, aimed principally at drumming up backing for his war on poverty program.

Off from the White House lawn by helicopter at 8:14 a.m., EDT, the president flew first to Cumberland, Md., for a speech in which he depicted the anti-poverty program as a campaign of the continuing American revolution.

From here Johnson flies on to visit six states, meeting the unemployed, visiting farmers and promoting the anti - poverty drive at all opportunities.

The Ohio University address carried on that effort, tying it in with the other goals which Johnson set for Americans.

Not in a day, not in a year will these goals be reached, Johnson said, "but if we begin the effort—if we approach the task with great enthusiasms and not with the cynicisms—these achievements will be the glory of your generation."

He said there is in front of young people today the promise of a greater tomorrow.

It's a tomorrow that is brighter than yesterday and more challenging than today," he said.

"This is not a time for timid spirits and trembling spirits.

"It is a time for reaching out—to extend the boundaries of the brain and widen the dimensions of knowledge.

"We have it within our power to find the best of solutions to the worst of problems. We intend to do just that.

"Let your young hearts armed with new weapons join an old battle against ancient enemies—the enemies of poverty and disease, illiteracy and strife."

Johnson announced that a contract has been signed by the Area Redevelopment Administration to establish a regional development institute at Ohio University. This, he said, will make the university the focal point of economic development for the southeastern Ohio area.

He also announced that the Lorain-Elyria area of Ohio is being removed today from the list of industrial areas in the state with substantial unemployment. This, he said, leaves only one Ohio area in this category compared with 10 out of 11 industrial areas in 1961.

Johnson noted that Ohio University, which is celebrating its 160th anniversary year was the first institution of higher learning to be established west of the Alleghenies.

Johnson wants Congress to vote a billion-dollar program to attack the causes of poverty in the Appalchian states, plus similar sums to carry the antipoverty cause into all parts of the nation.

But he said "it is not enough for the government to propose programs" or for Congress to pass laws.

He said: "We will not win our war against poverty until the conscience of the entire nation is aroused. We will not succeed until every citizen regards the sufferings of neighbors as a call to action."

Accepting an invitation to accompany Johnson on the foray into Maryland was Sen. Daniel B. Brewster who will oppose segregationist Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama in Maryland's May 19 Democratic primary.

This latest trek marks the President's first trip into the Deep South. He'll stay overnight in Atlanta, where his reception will be carefully gauged by political observers, then make a final stop Friday at Gainsville, Ga., before returning to the White House.

ening of N. Lincoln Ave. from E. State St. to E. 2nd St.

City Engineer F. S. Barckhoff Jr. said the widening, which will be approximately three feet, will come off the west side of the street. Work is expected to begin in four to six weeks.

2. Proceeding with the improvement of Ohio Avenue from E. State St. to Franklin Ave. The improvement will be new concrete pavement and the construction of a 15-inch storm sewer line along the west side of the street.

Cost of the project is estimated by City Engineer F. S. Barckhoff at $71,429.93 with abutting property owners paying 50 per cent of the cost, based on an estimate for asphalt paving not paid by the state or county and not including intersections or the storm sewer.

The remaining amount will be paid by the city.

3. Appropriating $426.73 from the income tax capital improvement fund for the purpose of meeting expenses in the A. & P. sewer project.

Barckhoff explained this morning that the additional money is needed for payment of supervision and inspection done by the Pennsylvania Railroad when boring for the pipe line was done across the railroad's properyt.

4. Directing the city auditor to make payment of $459 for a radio for fire department's emergency car from the funds made available for the vehicle.

5. Adjusting fishing rates at the city's East Cold Run Reservoir for non-residents from two dollars to one dollar, raising the amount to be charged by the lessee of the concession stand from 15 cents to 25 cents and shortening the fishing period by one month.

Councilman Joyce Wilson voted against the measure, saying he feels the bill is defeating its purpose. He said that instead of increasing revenues, the measure will lower them.

6. Authorizing the granting of an easement to the E. W. Bliss Co. across S. Ellsworth Ave. for the purpose of installing a railroad siding to a building at that site.

7. Changing the lot area requirements in single - family residential districts from 60-foot frontages to 70-foot frontage and from a minimum area of 6,000 square feet to 7,000 square feet.

8. Creating a four-way stop at the intersection of Highland Ave. and E. 3rd St.

A resolution was passed commending the Salem Junior Chamber of Commerce, Mark Weber, the project chairman, and the Salem High School seniors who participated in the "Youth in Government" program April 7.

Mayor Likes Horses; 'Neigh'--bors Don't

Neighbors of Mayor Dean B. Cranmer, who lives on Martins Drive, are complaining about horses that are stabled on the mayor's property.

A delegation of four men, with Richard Holtsinger of 1834 Cleveland St. as the spokesman, told City Council Wednesday night that they consider the horses a nuisance, a health hazard, and a hazard to small children who live in the neighborhood.

Council suggested the complainants see the city sanitarian for possible violation of the sanitary laws, and Council President Ford Joseph Jr. requested the rules and ordinances committee study the possibility of passing legislation governing the harboring of animals.

The 2 horses and 2 ponies at the mayor's home belong to his son, David.

The name "bourgeoisie" comes from the word "burgensis." In modern usage, the bourgeoisie are the middle class of society, but in the late Middle Ages, they were burgentown.

band while they were students at St. Olaf College in Northfield, Minn. Soon they will celebrate their 40th wedding anniversary.

While her husband goes about his college duties, Mrs Stavig busies herself entertaining visiting lecturers, faculty and students.

She lectures occasionally, and also serves as a marriage counselor.

The advice she gives most often to young married couples "is that it's very, very important to have the right sense of values."

"What used to be black or white has now turned for so many people into a shade of grey," she said. "This is true even on the very high levels of our society."

Mrs. Stavig believes in discipline, a "firm but fair disciplines," and recalls that she was a "sparing but effective spanker" when her sons were young.

Her sons are Dr. Paul Stavig, an Air Force lieutenant colonel and hospital commander at Otis Air Force Base, Mass.; Dr. Richard Stavig, professor of English at Kalamazoo (Mich.) College; David Stavig, an industrial engineer of Sioux Falls, and Dr. Mark Stavig, now doing post-doctoral research at Harvard. All are married.

Dry Well May Be Used to Take Care of Heavy Rain

Water pouring out of a downspout during a heavy rain sometimes persists in staying close to the house. When this occurs, flooding conditions can bring a number of unpleasant results, including a weakened foudatio, a dampened basement and a ruined lawn.

One way to carry the water away from the house is to install drain tiles leading to a dry well. Drain tiles are not what we normally think of as tiles. They are actually pieces of pipe which come in various lengths, the most common of which are 2, 2½ and 3 feet. By connecting combinations of different lengths, you can put together almost any size you need. Your builder supply dealer can cut one of the lengths to your order if you need one final piece of pipe in a non-standard size.

The tiles are laid in a trench from one to 2 feet in depth, slanted slightly in the direction of the dry well. The well should be located at least 8 feet from the house, but preferably 8 or 10 feet farther than that. It is made by digging a hole deep enough to hold a barrel or steel drum. Or you can make a similar size container of bricks or cesspool blocks. Remove the bottom from the barrel or drum. The drain tile should enter the barrel or other well insert near the top. The container should be filled with stones, covered with a heavy board, and packed in at the sides and top with earth.

To prevent dirt from entering the drain tiles at the joints, cover hose joints with building paper. It is not necessary that the joints be watertight.

Paint Purchases For City Streets Puts Fund In 'Red'

What's white and yellow and "red" at the same time?

Answer: The city street department's paint fund.

The bill for paint used in lining city streets is exceeding the appropriation by over 100 per cent. Councilman Charles Gibbs told Council at its meeting last night.

Gibbs said the safety department has submitted bills for paint totaling $2,617, while the amount appropriated was $1,200 for paint and $700 for plastic strips to be used at crossings.

The amount spent on paint in 1961 was $1,147, in 1962 the amount was $1,189 and the total spent in '63 was $1,457.

Gibbs said it seems unreasonable that the bill would be higher this year when the plastic strips will reduce the amount of paint needed.

"I think someone has made a mistake and ordered too much," he said.

Councilman Ralph Zimmerman, chairman of the safety committee, was asked to check on the problem.

In the far east, the dragon has managed to retain its prestige and is known as a beneficent creature. In China it appears as the national symbol and was the badge of the royal family. In Chinese art the imperial dragon can be identified by its five claws. The ordinary Chinese dragon has only four. The Japanese dragon has three claws.

All the World Loves a Loser

(But Nobody Remembers Him)

Winning candidates in presidential elections are at least remembered by school-children. But losers, famous at the time of their candidacies, are as familiar as a guy named Albert Wibbledon. The losers pictured here all ran in the 20th century. How many do you recall? Answers below.

A—Alfred M. Landon defeated by Franklin D. Roosevelt (1936). B—Charles Evans Hughes defeated by Woodrow Wilson (1916). C—Wendell Willkie defeated by Franklin D. Roosevelt (1940). D—John W. Davis defeated by Calvin Coolidge (1924). E—William Jennings Bryan defeater by William McKinley (1900) and William H. Taft (1908). F—James M. Cox defeated by Warren G. Harding (1920). G—Alton B. Parker defeated by Theodore Roosevelt (1904).

LBJ Warns Congress of Recall If Bills Aren't Passed

By BARRY SCHWEID

WASHINGTON (AP) — While reporters' children squirmed in their seats and munched on cookies President Johnson passed on the kind of news that makes congressmen squirm: Act on the administration program or face a possible late summer recall.

"The people's business must come first," the President declared as he mixed business — replying to newsmen's question —with pleasure—playing picnic host in the White House back yard.

"I strive to please," Johnson said at one point Wednesday, and the setting proved it. Before him were tots to teen-agers, children of newsmen invited to the presidential news conference and pink lemonade and cookies at gaily colored refreshment stands.

The newsmen's wives responded to the presidential invitation, too, and by White House count there were 1,080 people on hand —a record, of sorts, for the usually serious business of dealing with the press.

On the sober side, Johnson: Announced that Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara will make still another visit to South Viet Nam to see how the war against Communist guerrillas is progressing.

Asked labor to hold wage demands within the bounds of productivity increases and appealed to business to hold the price line or even cut prices.

Said he knows of no agreement with the Soviet Union that involves Soviet acquiesence to American spy plane surveillance of Cuba.

Hoped that the Senate will pass the civil rights bill by the end of the month or the early part of June so that Congress can turn to such administration programs as the antipoverty and medical aid measures.

Johnson said "some cynical people think there may be a deliberate slowdown in the Senate" and then went on to say that if there is one he would "seriously consider" calling Congress back after the Republican National Convention in July and the Democratic convention in August.

"I think that the people of this country are entitled to have a vote on these imporant measures," he declared. "This administration is entitled to have a vote on them, and I am going to ask the Congress to vote them up or down."

But the afternoon was too sunny and the President too intent on playing the showman to remain on a serious track.

Asked about his health—he suffered a severe heart attack in 1955—he blended medical data with a jest: "They tell me that my blood pressure is 125 over 78, that my heart is normal, and that I don't have any aches and pains. I feel fine. I get adequate rest and good pay, and plenty to eat."

Without any prompting at all, Johnson reminded his audience here and those across the country who heard him on radio and watched him on television—of the now-famous dog-ears incident by announcing "I have today accepted lifetime membership in the Vanderburgh Humane Society of Evansville, Indiana."

He even remembered to poke fun at his press secretary, bushy-haired George Reedy, by telling the children: "Someone even suggested you should be accredited to the White House. Here you are. I think that tha person ought to remain anonymous, at least until he has his hair cut again."

And he concluded the affair by having the children gather round to have their pictures taken with him.

BOY DROWNS IN POND

RFK Not Surprised At Big Wallace Vote

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy says he "was not surprised" at the strong vote for Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama in the Indiana presidential primary.

Kennedy, speaking to 300 law students at the University of Pennsylvania Wednesday, said "there is a revolution now in the United States over civil rights and people don't like to have their lives disturbed."

"It's not surprising then," he added, "that one-third of the people in Indiana voted for Wallace. About one-fifth of the people are against everything all the time."

Wallace, who campaigned against the civil rights bill pending in the Senate, got more than 29 per cent of the votes in losing to Democratic Gov. Matthew E. Welsh.

The Revolutionary Junta renewed a promise that its men will land in Cuba by May 20 to join guerrillas already there.

250 Athletes Entered In County Meet Friday Night

61st Annual Classic At East Palestine

By MARK W. MILLER
News Sports Editor

At least six records will be in jeopardy at the 61st annual Columbiana County track and field meet at East Palestine Friday.

All county schools with the exception of Lisbon and Salineville (Southern Local), have entered teams. A total of 250 athletes will participate.

Columbiana is a strong favorits to capture its second straight title, but Salem and East Palestine should furnish the Clippers with plenty of opposition.

Jim Ward, one of the all-time great athletes at Columbiana, will be after three records. He has already bettered the current county marks in the century, 220 and 440-yard dashes this season. He will probably win the broad jump too.

His teammate Fred Gosney has the best times in the hurdle races, and he could take a first in the high jump. Warren Bradley of Beaver Local should give the Clippers' hurdler a close race in the 120-yard timbers. The Beavers athlete has been timed in 15.5, compared to a 15.2 effort by the Columbiana star.

SALEM'S STRENGTH is in the shot put, pole vault, mile-run, 880-yard run, and both relays. The Quakers figure to score a few points in every event.

Bill Fullerton should lead host East Palestine in the half-mile run. He has one of the best times, 2:03.3, recorded in the district so far this season. Gene Metzgar, who placed third for United in the Class A division of the state meet at Columbus last year, has also been clocked in 2:03 during the 1964 campaign.

John Tarleton, Salem's distance specialist, has his eye on the mile-run record. Kenny Wagonhauser of Leetonia set the mark of 4:32 during the meet in 1931. In the Rayen Relays held recently, Tarleton was timed in 4:31.6.

Harold Walker holds the all-time Salem school record of 4:38 set in 1929.

Shot put and broad jump preliminaries will get under way at 1:30. All the field events with the exception of the pole vault will be completed in the afternoon.

The 120-yard high hurdles prelims will get under way at 2:30, to be followed by prelims in the 100-yard dash, 2:45; 180-yard low hurdles, 3:15; and 220-yard dash.

The finals in the pole vault will start at 7 p.m., with the first race slated for 7:30 p.m.

Trophies will be given to the winner and runnerup in Class AA and to the Class A team scoring the most points, high point man and the winning relay teams.

Gold medals will be given to individuals finishing first in each race or field event. Runners-up will receive a silver medal; third place, a bronze medal; and fourth and fifth places, ribbons.

Price of admission to the finals will be 50 cents for both adult and students.

Nicholson's Big Bat Gives Chisox Tie For AL Lead; Yanks Split Pair

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Dave Nicholson, reaching for even greater heights with his strikeout act this season, has added depth to the other half of his repertory.

The Chicago White Sox swinger is missing the third strike at a slightly faster rate than he did last season when he fanned a record 175 times.

But Nicholson went a long way Wednesday night toward showing his ability as a double threat as the White Sox swept a doubleheader from Kansas City 6-4 and 11-4.

Actually, it was the ball that went a long way—573 feet by Comiskey Park measurement. The hit was one of three home runs Nicholson clouted in the two games.

According to existing records, only a 600-foot blast by Babe Ruth at Detroit in 1926 went farther than Nicholson's home run over the roof of the left-field stands.

Nicholson's other two homers didn't go as far, but they still accounted for four runs and gave him four homers for the season.

At the same time, the 6-foot-2, 215-pounder gave equal treatment to his strikeout artistry, fanning three times for a season total of 22. If he maintains his present pace and bats the same number of times as he did last year, the 24-year-old right-hander would strike out 194 times.

Nicholson wasn't the only home run hitter Wednesday night. The New York Yankees got into the act as they split a doubleheader with Washington, winning the opener 9-2 and dropping the nightcap 5-4. Cleveland home runs stopped Baltimore 6-3 and Los Angeles nipped Minnesota 4-3 in other American League games.

Nicholson's second homer in the first game, a two-run blow, climaxed a four-run rally and clinched the victory for Gary Peters. In the nightcap, Nicholson's two-run blast came during Chicago's five-run first inning. Jim Gentile had cracked a three-run homer for the Athletics in the first.

Floyd Robinson connected for the White Sox in the third while Minnie Minoso belted a three-run pinch homer in the seventh, putting the game far beyond Kansas City's reach.

The Yankees, held to three home runs in 13 games, erupted for five homers but still gained only a split with the Senators. Hector Lopez connected twice and Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris once each as New York glided to the first-game victory.

Mantle hit another in the second game, which the Senators won in the ninth when Chuck Hinton scored from third on catcher Elston Howard's passed ball. Hinton smashed a two-run homer in the first game and a three-run blow in the second.

Friend Pitches Pirates To 3-0 Triumph; Cincy Cruises 12-4

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Has Roger Craig rubbed off on Bob Gibson?

Craig probably hasn't revealed any of his tough-luck techniques to his new St. Louis teammate, but it's been an unusually unsuccessful week for Gibson, who got too close to the target Monday night and Wednesday night couldn't get close enough.

It cost Gibson $50 Monday night when he fired a couple of beanballs at Philadelphia pitcher Dennis Bennett. It cost the Cardinals a victory Wednesday night when Gibson fired a peg over first base and let the winning run score in a 1-0 loss to Pittsburgh.

Gibson came on in relief of Ray Sadecki in the ninth after Roberto Clemente led off with a double. Gibson proceeded to walk Donn Clendenon intentionally. Bob Bailey followed with a bunt down the third-base line, and when Gibson threw wildly, Clemente raced home with the clincher.

The victory went to Bob Friend, who checked the Cardinals on six hits for a 3-0 record. Sadecki allowed only seven hits, but came up with an 0-3 record when Gibson extended his streak of misfortune.

Don Drysdale, meanwhile, got a 3-for-3 performance from catcher John Roseboro and broke a string of four straight losses to Houston pitcher Dick Farrell, hurling his third complete game in the Los Angeles Dodgers' 5-2 victory over the Colts.

Elsewhere in the National League, Wes Covington's two-run homer gave Philadelphia a 7-6 decision over Milwaukee, Leo Cardenas drove in four runs as Cincinnati walloped the New York Mets 12-4 and the Chicago Cubs whipped San Francisco 4-2 behind Larry Jackson's five-hit pitching.

Friend was in trouble twice—and Ken Boyer put him there both times. Boyer doubled in the fourth but was thrown out at home when he tried to score on a single by Curt Flood. In the seventh, Boyer led off with a triple, but stayed there as Friend retire Flood, Charlie James and Johnny Lewis.

Drysdale, now 3-1, had trouble only in the seventh when Walt Bond's fourth homer, a single by Bob Aspromonte and John Bateman's double produced the Colts' runs. Roseboro was instrumental in two Dodger runs. A walk, Roseboro's double and a sacrifice fly brought in a run in the second then Frank Howard's triple and Roseboro's single added another in the fourth.

The Braves held a 6-5 lead in the eighth when rookie Richie Allen got the Phillies started with a walk. Two outs later, Covington beat his former Milwaukee teammates.

Indians' Batters Collect 4 Home Runs

Tribe Power Dumps Baltimore Club 7-5

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Indians must have been real happy to see Municipal Stadium. They celebrated with a burst of four home runs and a 7-5 victory over the Baltimore Orioles Wednesday night after returning from a 12-game road trip.

Three homers and two singles in one inning produced six runs for the Tribe's biggest inning of the season. The sixth-inning outburst included a three-run blast by Max Alvis and back-to-back homers by Dick Howser and Larry Brown.

The Indians now have hit a total of 18 round-trippers, and in four of their 10 victories the margin was provided by homers.

Although they won, the Indians had to give up a share of first place in the American League. The Chicago White Sox, who trailed by a half game, swept a doubleheader against Kansas City to move into a first-place tie with the Indians.

The Indians were blanked for five innings Wednesday night by Baltimore starter Mike McCormick. Provided with a two-run margin in the first, McCormick gave up only four hits in those five innings.

But the six-run outburst and a seventh inning homer by Woodie Held put the Indians ahead 7-2.

However, it looked as though they would need all those runs when the Orioles came up with two homers in the eighth.

Brooks Robinson led off with a homer off Gary Bell, the third Cleveland pitcher. After Bell walked Norm Siebern, he was replaced by Ted Abernathy. Abernathy got Sam Bowens on strokes, but John Powell lined a two-run homer into the right field seats.

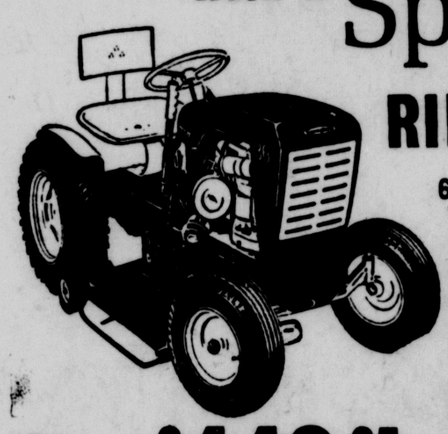

Mills Not Interested In Warren Cage Job

Rumors that United athletic director and head basketball coach Jack Mills will take the head cage post at Warren Harding are false, Mills said today.

"I am not interested in making any change at the present and very happy with my present position at United," said Mills this morning.

It is expected that Harding coach Dick Boyd will resign as cage mentor to accept a position as principal at one of the three junior high schools at Warren next year.

West Branch Nips Leetonia 59-58

In its most thrilling track and field meet of the season, Leetonia dropped a 59-58 decision to West Branch at the Bears' den Wednesday.

The Warriors picked up the victory with the last event as they placed one-two in the broad jump.

Leetonia's George Zepernick just missed tying for second place in the field event by 1¼ inches, which would have given the meet to the Bears.

Marty Orr led the Bears, who are now 1-5, as he set a school record in the discus throw with a toss of 129 feet, and also took first in the shot put with a heave of 43 feet, 1 inches.

John Mensch paced the Warriors, winning the 100-yard dash, high jump and broad jump.

Jon Holloway was also a double winner for Leetonia. He took the 180-yard low hurdles and the pole vault.

The Bears will compete for Class A honors in the county meet at East Palestine Friday.

AFL Slates 56 Games For 1964 Season

NEW YORK (AP) — The Oakland Raiders of the American Football League will buck the National League's San Francisco 49ers for the favor of Bay area fans on five Sunday afternoons during the 1964 season, the AFL schedule revealed today.

The AFL's 56-game schedule will open Saturday, Sept. 12, and runs 15 weeks through Sunday, Dec. 20. The championship playoff game between the two divisional winners will be played Saturday, Dec. 26, in the home city of the Eastern Division champion. Each team will have one open weekend during the season.

Oakland opens its home season Sept. 13 against the Boston Patriots. San Francisco is at home the same afternoon to the Detroit Lions. Other conflicting games are Sept. 27 — Kansas City at Oakland and St. Louis at San Francisco; Oct. 25 —Denver at Oakland and Minnesota at San Francisco; Nov. 15 — Houston at Oakland and Green Bay at San Francisco; Dec. 6— Buffalo at Oakland and Los Angeles at San Francisco.

In the only other two-league city, New York, the schedule shows only one conflict in dates between the AFL Jets and the NFL Giants. On Sunday, Nov. 8 Buffalo plays the Jets at New York while Dallas visits the Giants at Yankee Stadium.

The championship game Dec. 26 and the Thanksgiving Day game will be televised nationally by the American Broadcasting Co. ABC also will televise Sunday afternoon games on a limited basis into cities where no AFL games are being played.

Nicklaus Favored As Tourney At Fort Worth Starts Today

By MIKE COCHRAN

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Rain and a top-flight field posed a duplicate threat to Jack Nicklaus today as he opened his bid for the Colonial National Invitation Golf Championship.

Nicklaus, young powerhouse from Ohio, was rated the favorite as 72 players teed off in quest of a plump $75,000 purse.

A record $14,000 has been set aside for the winner who, the experts contend, will be Nicklaus, Masters champion Arnold Palmer or defending champion Julius Boros.

However, it was youthful Dave Ragan of Orlando, Fla., who stole the preliminary spotlight with a two-under-par 68 in a pro-amateur Wednesday. It netted him first-place money of $350.

Cloudy skies threatened all day to wash out the $3,500 appitizer after dumping showers intermittently for 48 hours. However, the threat produced little more than a good soaking for the treacherous 7,122-yard course.

A revised forecast called for more cloudiness with a possibility of thundershowers.

New Zealander Bob Charles and Dan Sikes of Ponte Vedra, Fla., deadlocked for second among the low pros with 69s. Each picked up $277 for his efforts.

South African Gary Player was a picture of frustration after he whipped in with a 69 only to discover that he had 15 clubs in his bag and was therefore subject to a four-shot penalty. The resulting 73 knocked him out of the money.

Nicklaus, the tour's leading money-winner with $46,150 officially, was among seven 70 shooters who won $159 for the afternoon.

Nicklaus says the recurring back injury that bothered him in the final round at the Las Vegas Tournament of Champions has disappeared and he feels fine. He won the tourney by two strokes.

6th Annual Warren Meet Set Saturday

A host of stars, from 27 high schools throughout Ohio, will compete in the Mollenkopf stadium at 1 p.m. Saturday in Warren.

Among the estimated 520 athletes who will take part in the track and field events, a chosen few have been singled out as the "men to watch" when the 6th annual track and field meet begins.

In the 440 yd. dash, the three boys favored to cross the wire first are Xenates, Bellaire, at 49.1: E. Taylor, Akron East, at 49.8: and Blunt, Youngstown Rayen, at 50.8.

A matter of tenths of seconds separates the top contenders in the 100 yd. dash. The following boys have been singled out: Sam Taylor, Akron South, at 9.7; Ed Taylor, Akron East, at 9.8; Ron Gilmer, Youngstown South, at 9.9; Jim Howard, Warren Harding at 10.0; and Ray Frazier, Warren Market at 9.9.

With the time of 1:29.7, the 880 relay team from Akron South has proven itself fastest in the state. This event could possibly highlight the entire meet.

In the high jump, Larry Daggett from Akron East, has set the pace. With a 6'8¼" jump, Daggett holds the honor of having the highest jump in the history of Ohio high school trackmen. This event presents another challenge for the schools which have been entered, especially those that have boys capable of clearing this mark.

The outstanding milers in the invitational are John Tillman and Oscar Brown, both of whom have never been timed at less than 4:30.

BATTING -- Dave Nicholson, White Sox, hit three homers, one a 573-foot shot—the second longest homer on record—in Chicago's 6-4, 11-4 doubleheader sweep over Kansas City.

PITCHING — Bob Friend, Pirates, recorded the 31st shutout of his major league carrier, stopping St. Louis 1-0 with six-hitter.

East Liverpool Cage Coach Resigns Post

Jim Harris is the third East Liverpool varsity coach in the past three days to turn in his resignation to the East Liverpool Board of Education.

The former all-Ohio star had been head basketball mentor for the Potters for the last five years. He had compiled a 40-50 record, and lost five straight decisions in opening rounds of sectional tourney competition.

A former East Liverpool cage star, Harris has filed applications for coaching positions at two of Ohio's leading schools.

Harris said, I am resigning at East Liverpool because I feel I won't be rehired."

He said one of the reasons for his resignation was that East Liverpool Superintendent of Schools Paul Blair had told him he wouldn't recommend him for the job again because his teams lacked spirit.

Earlier in the week, head football coach Bob Hedmond and his number-one assistant Ray Paduzzi resigned.

Salem 8th, 7th Grade Track Teams Post Wins

Salem's eighth grade track team (heavyweights) ended its season unbeaten as it knocked off United 77½-26½ in a dual meet at Reilly Stadium.

Coach Bing Newton's 7th grade aggregation also beat a Golden Eagles' unit 65-31.

Sprint star Terry Sheets won three events, setting a record in one, and was a member of the winning 880-yard relay team to take individual honors in the eighth grade division.

He set his mark in the 220-yard dash in 24.9 to break a record he had established earlier this season.

Sheets also took the 100-yard dash and broad jump.

The Quakers were first in 11 of the 12 events held.

Syx was the only United athlete to win an event. He took first in the 880-yard run in 2:25.1.

The Salem Lightweights were first in eight of 11 events.

The Quakers seventh graders finished their campaign with a 2-2 record.

11 Races Set At Canfield Saturday

Canfield Speedway always provides plenty of thrills and this will be no exception Saturday night when the amateurs and late models get together in an 11-race program.

Even the time trials provide their share of excitement. Last week Ray Jones of Warren rolled his car during the trials. Another pilot straddled the fence and still a third went "sailing" through the canvas.

Already the 1964 season has been a success for two drivers, Paul Finch of Canfield and Vince Carbone of Warren. Carbone, 23, is single and works for Ott Housemovers.

Last year he made a good showing by winning a heat race and a pursuit and finished among the top 10 in the amateur feature six times. His best previous running until last week was a second. This is Carbone's second year as a race driver.

Finch, also 23, has been driving race cars for four years, but like Carbone, he had never won a feature until two weeks ago. He has won several heat events and consolation races over the last four years. A salesman, Finch drives a 1955 Chevrolet and Carbone a 1956 Chevrolet.

Nearly 70 amateur drivers were on hand last year and this total is expected to increase every Saturday night. Last year on one occasion Canfield signed in some 130 pilots.

Nearly 30 late models will be on hand this week, led by Bill Forney of Youngstown and Jim Bickerstaff of Mineral Ridge. Bickerstaff cracked the ice last week with his first feature win, but 1963 champion, Forney, has found the going rough, having to settle for fifth spot.

There will be 11 events on the card this week, including two features, a 20-lapper for the amateurs and 25 for the late models. Race time is 8 p. m. with time trials at 6:30 p.m.

The Canton Bulldogs, will open their 14-game schedule Aug. 30 at Quebec.

Negro Motel Damaged By Blast In Mississippi

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—A Negro motel, still under construction, was heavily damaged by an explosion, Sheriff Fred Pickett said Wednesday night.

The damage was discovered when the motel owner made a routine check of the structure.

Residents of North Jackson had reported an explosion Tuesday night but sheriff's deputies had been unable to find the blast scene.

Pickett said the blast ripped a 30 foot hole in the roof, knocked out walls and buckled and gutted the floor.

McNamara To Take Another Look at Viet Nam Situation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert S. McNamara, secretary of defense, who has become something of a general trouble shooter for President Johnson in South Viet Nam's vexing problems, sets out again Friday night on a world-girdling trip back to Saigon.

Johnson told a news conference Wednesday he had asked McNamara to go to South Viet Nam to take a new look at the situation there.

A the Pentagon, McNamara's aides said that the new trip, coming only two months after his previous trip, did not mean that any new, critical emergency had arisen.

McNamara was going to assess any progress made in recommendations agreed upon after his March trip, these sources said.

McNamars is scheduled to take off Friday night. The first stop will be at Bonn, to discuss with West German leaders the status of the program under which Germany buys equipment and supplies from the United States to help offset the gold dollar cost of maintaining almost a quarter million military men in West Germany. Also on the agenda is further discussions of the plan for joint development of a new type of main battle tank for use by ground forces of both nations.

With the Bonn sessions concluded by Monday, McNamara will take off for Saigon. He plans to be back at his Pentagon desk next Thursday.

Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard is presiding.

North Platte, Neb., was the site of the world's first rodeo. It was staged July 4, 1882, by Buffalo Bill Cody as a local celebration. Cody's Scout Rest Ranch was located nearby.

Trucker Hurt As Vehicle Overturns

One man was injured and another was arrested in an unusual accident on alternate Rt. 14 Wednesday at 9:35 p. m. in which three tractor - trailer trucks were involved but no collision occurred.

According to the Lisbon barracks of the state highway patrol, a truck operated by Dale E. Brown, 24, of RD 2, Lisbon, was southbound at a slow rate of speed about one mile north of Salem.

Another truck, driven by Leonard Franklin, 28, of 972 N. Lincoln Ave. came up behind the first truck too fast to be slowed down, so Franklin attempted to pass.

William A. Sack, 39, of Cleveland was driving his truck toward the other two vehicles and, seeing what was happening, pulled off the right side of the road.

Brown also pulled to the right, trying to avoid a collision. His truck overturned and he received contusions and abrasions of the right leg. Franklin was cited for driving at a speed excessive for road conditions.

Three trucks were involved in two other mishaps investigated by the patrol Wednesday.

At 2:25 p.m., a car driven by Herbert R. Spencer Sr., 70, of Columbiana and a truck operated by Ralph Arthur Wisler, 20, of RD 2, Leetonia, collided on County Road 421, about one and one-half miles east of Columbiana.

The patrol said Spencer backed his auto out of a private drive into the path of Wisler's truck. He was cited for improper backing.

Trucks driven by Roy Johnson, 53, of RD 5, Lisbon, and Ross Halstead, 28, of Lisbon collided at the intersection of Rt. 154 and a public street in the village of Rogers at 5:30 a. m. Wednesday.

The patrol said Johnson was headed east and started to make a turn onto the village street. Due to oncoming traffic, he stopped and backed his truck into the path of Halstead's, which was also eastbound.

Ann Landers Answers

Dear Ann Landers: I am writing about a serious injustice. Our 14-year-old daughter is the guilty party.

Monica did not eat a bite of her supper tonight. She was nervous and uncommunicative. I went to her room as she was preparing for bed and I asked her what was wrong. She broke down and tearfully confessed that she had started an ugly rumor about a girl in her class.

The girl had been absent from school for two weeks. When she returned, Monica spread the word that the girl had had an abortion. The girl actually had gone West for her aunt's funeral. When the rumor got back to the girl she became so upset she had to leave school during lunch hour.

Monica does not know why she started the ugly story. She would give any thing to square matters. Will you please tell me what should be done? — CRISIS.

Dear Crisis: Your daughter should go to the girl and to her parents, admit that she started the rumor and beg heir forgiveness. Monica then should go to each of the people to whom she told the story, and confess that she lied. Make it clear there is no other way for her to "square matters."

Shape Ahoy

Dear Ann: I'm a boy 22. When I joined the Navy right out of high school I left a lovely, understanding girl. Ellie was a good-looking, shapely chick and she looked great in a bathing suit. She promised to wait for me and she kept her word.

I got home last week — and there she was — all 200 pounds of her. Ellie had hinted in her letters that she had gained a little weight — "overeating because of loneliness" was the way she put it. My mother kept writing that Ellie was getting awfully fat, but Mom always exaggerates so I didn't pay much attention to it.

Now I feel guilty because Ellie ate herself out of shape on account of me. I like her a lot, Ann — I may even love her — but fat women are repulsive to me. Would I be a dirty dog if I told her to get back in shape and call me up when she's a size 12 again? — COLOR ME COOL.

Dear Cook: If you drop this girl flat she may go to 300.

Level with Ellie. Tell her precisely how you feel about fat females. Suggest that she see her doctor and get back in shape — or else. If she fails to respond to your ultimatum, you can be sure that Ellie is a compulsive eater —destined to be broad where a broad shouldn't be broad. No man should marry a woman who is "repulsive to him."

No-Toil Tillie

Dear Ann: Please say a word in behalf of the "Forgotten Woman" — the stenographer who is too old for hiring and too young for Social Security. Is the gas pipe the only answer?

I'm 39, fairly attractive neat experience as a typist, file clerk and general "Girl Friday." I quit work two years ago because I thought I wanted to stay home and be a housewife.

Well, I'm fed up with bridge, the girls and the garden club. I want to go back to work, but it seems no jobs are available for a woman my age.

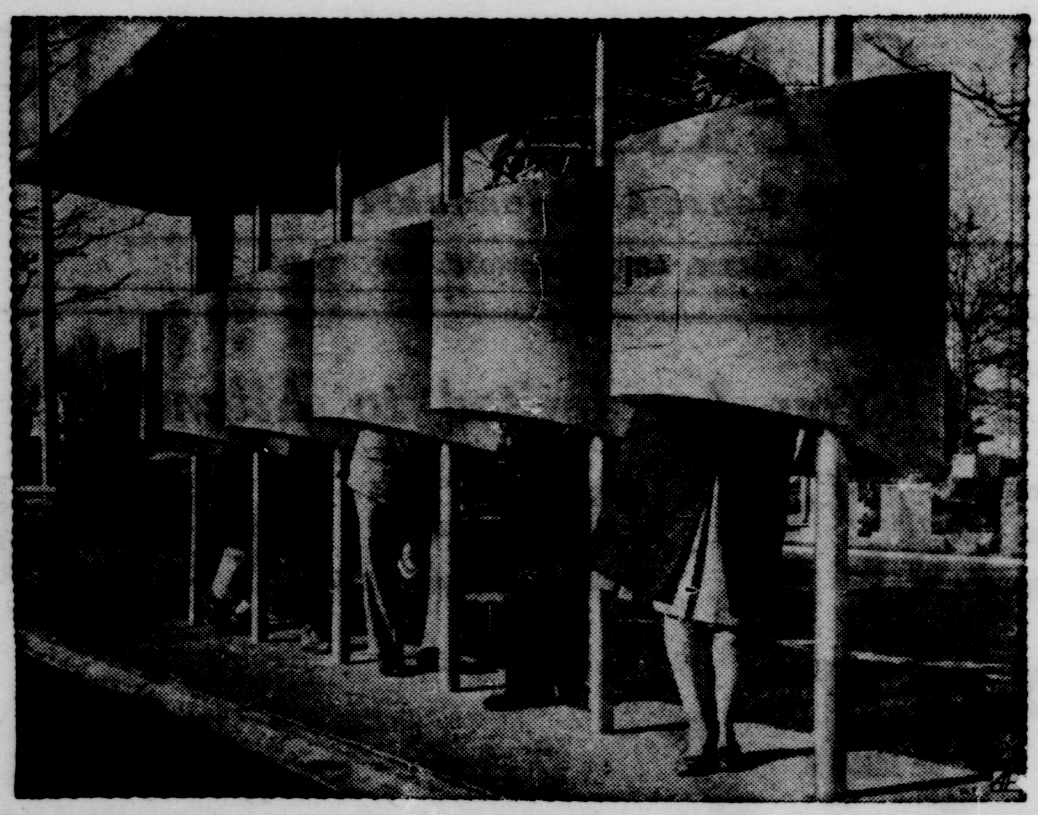

There are movements afoot to hire the handicapped and retired folks who are in the golden years. How about a word to employers to give the "39ers" a break? — TULSA TILLIE.

-:-

DEAR TILLIE: I don't believe your age is against you. Many employers prefer a "39er" to a "21er" because they want maturity and experience.

Ask the personnel director honest evaluation. There's a reason you can't get employment and it has nothing to do with your age.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Studebaker is a full-size car . . . but only where it counts—inside. In the front and in the rear, it's compact. And, the result is that it handles like a small car, but gives you the comfort of a large one.

You can stretch your legs out in a Studebaker. You don't have to crane your neck forward to keep your head from hitting the roof. And, it's built to accommodate six people—three in front and three in back—in comfort.

The shorter hood means visibility as clear as all out doors. Take a trial drive. You'll find that the Common Sense Car gives you the best of both large and small car worlds . . . with beauty you'll be proud to own.

'Unofficial' Fair

By HILMI TOROS

NEW YORK (AP)—Is it really the World's Fair?

Michelangelo's "Pieta" is there. So are Goya's two flawless "Maja" paintings from Spain, the white pristine minarets and a 1,200-year-old delicate fresco from the Sudan and the architectural gem of a dynastic Chinese temple.

These—coupled with rum and wildly decorated straw hats—enrich a fairgoer's jaunt to the international section of the New York World's Fair.

But a visitor—perhaps a bit fatigued after strolling through 139 exhibits—can also ponder: Where are the others? The "cheers" from Great Britain, the "Mona Lisa" smile of the French government, the sweets of Damascus, Syria, or a sign that reads: "From Russia, with love."

Why aren't they here?

"No money," is the explanation of some countries. Other nations say the fair isn't 'official."

"We planned to come. But later the Cabinet decided we couldn't possibly afford it," a spokesman for Turkey said. 'Rent alone would have cost almost $200,000."

At the moment a square foot of Flushing Meadow rents for $3 a year, compared with the $1.10 of the Hannover, Germany fair. In the 1939 New York fair, no foreign government paid space rental for pavilions smaller than 10,000 square feet.

This year the rent for the Belgian pavilion—the largest of all foreign entries with 164,811 square feet—is nearly half a million dollars.

To economize, Austria fashioned its A-shaped building at home. The Sierra Leone pavilion was constructed so it can be shipped to Africa for use as a public building when the fair closes in 1966.

Great Britain and 30 other nations, including the Western European countries, didn't enter the fair since the lawmaker of the world's "official" fairs in Paris ruled that the exhibit was not "official" but strictly private.

The Bureau of International Expositions so advised its 31 members.

Plymouth To Show New Model

An entirely new kind of automobile called the Plymouth Barracuda will go on sale in Chrysler-Plymouth dealers' showrooms early in May.

The Plymouth Barracuda is a sports fastback concept of the 1964 Plymouth Valiant and is built on the compact's wheelbase size. Its interior is distinguished by individually adjustable front bucket seats and simulated bucket seats at the rear which, when folded, convert the carpeted rear interior of the automobile into a large seven-foot-long flat storage area.

The Barracuda was shown publicly for the first time in the Chrysler - Plymouth exhibit at the New York International Automobile Show early in April.

The sleek fastback exterior styling of the Plymouth Barracuda is accentuated by the largest window, 14.4 square feet, ever installed in a production automobile. The rear window is of tinted glass.

The front fender styling has a character line which continues the entire length of the car, enhancing its long, low, sweeping look. The boldly styled grille adds o the over-all sports car flair of the car.

The Plymouth Barracuda has a wide chrome strip running beneath the entire length of the back window. In the center is a handsome decorative emblem. Its rear lights are of vertical design with a circular back-up light at the base.

With a front compartment area larger than many sedans, the interior has been designed for comfortable four-place seating. However, through elimination of the traditional rear window shelf panel, stylists have taken advantage of the fastback design to provide a spacious rear area when the rear seats are folded down.

In addition to this feature, the Plymouth Barracuda has a concealed locked storage compartment.

The Plymouth Barracuda will be available in 13 solid colors, in addition to a new color exclusive to the car and called Barracuda Metallic Gold.

With a wheelbase of 106 inches and a width of 70.1 inches, the over-all length of the Plymouth Barracuda is 188.2 inches.

Three engines are available. The two optional engines are a lively V-8 with four-speed full synchronized manual transmission and Hurst linkage and a 225 cubic inch six cylinder engine. A 170 cubic inch six cylinder engine is standard equipment.

'Successful' Plane Crash

Ordinarily, every effort is made to avoid plane crashes, but the Flight Safety Foundation deliberately plans and executes them. On the rocky desert slopes near Phoenix, Ariz., foundation officials are studying the result of "a perfect crash" of their own making. Using a 10-year-old, four-engine DC-7 with 16 instrumented dummies inside, the foundation tested the forces acting on the plane in a "marginally survivable" crash. The test was conducted under a $190,000 grant from the Federal Aviation Agency. A Lockeed Constellation will be crashed in June.

Most of the 16 instrumented dummies strapped in the plane's seats survived the crash. Injuries have not yet been determined. One dummy, protected by an inflated plastic bag, was unharmed. The transparent bag, which inflates in two seconds, is activated by a switch in the pilot's cabin prior to impact. Joan Solley, above, demonstrates how it held the dummy in position.

Lang Weinberg, Flight Safety Foundation project engineer, examines protruding parts of a dummy that was aboard the plane. The wreckage of the airliner passed its intended target and landed 100 yards beyond. It was scattered around an area the size of three football fields.

Buick Proud Of Its Convertibles

The "standard" of the automobile business is still the four door model, however, the "darling" of the industry is the convertible.

Probably one reason is that the convertible leads such an interesting life. Invariably, it's the convertible that's picked to lead the hometown parade, carry the queen, and meet celebrities at the airport.

The glamour that's attached to this model is a primary reason that Buick builds such a variety of convertibles.

A Buick convertible, for example, can be had in the Special series with a V-6 or V-8 engine. Or, it is available in a snappy Skylark model...or the regular-sized LeSabre...the Wildcat and the Electra 225.

Buick's general sales manager R S. Withers, interprets this as meaning there is a cross-section of convertible fans, and not any particular age or interest group.

"We know that many of our Skylark buyers are in the young adult group," he points out, "and they select the Skylark for reasons of smartness, economy, and its smaller size.

"Yet the Electra market is usually regarded as an adult group – businessmen, executives, and in general, people who are in a position to drive any car or model they want."

For this reason – because convertibles appeal to such a wide group – Buick provides a big variety of convertible choices in body styles, sizes, engine options, and prices.

"We believe that sooner or later every man wants to own a convertible," Withers declares, "and when he decides, we want to have the right car for him."

Can Science Trick Nature Into a Genteel Behavior?

CAN IT BE THAWED? — This mighty mass of glacial ice in the Arctic may one day meet its end at the hand of man.

By TOM NOLAN

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — It is possible perhaps that by 1970 man will be able to make it rain where he needs water, prevent rainfall where it would do damage and eliminate many lightning-sparked forest fires.

Later, when the drawbacks can be seen as clearly as the advantages, he will be able to change his climate, turn deserts into gardens and open new lands to civilization.

-:-

SOME MAJOR STEPS in weather control have been taken since 1960, when one of the nation's leading weather scientists noted: "How can we be expected to control the weather by sowing clouds with dry ice when when we can't even accurately predict when it's going to be cloudy?"

Here are some of these steps:

-:-

THE DISCOVERY that silver iodide is more effective than dry ice in coaxing rain from clouds. Silver iodide particles are very light and do not require bulky and expensive refrigeration. They can be released from the ground into winds which carry them, to the clouds. Dry ice must be scattered from a plane.

-:-

NAVY WEATHER SERVICE research has proven it is possible to create clouds by seeding clear, humid air with carbon black. This could lead to the conversion of range land — "where the skies are not cloudy all day"to garden plots.

-:-

TESTS HAVE SHOWN that seeding a cloud from above with silver iodide converts it to very tiny crystals, too light to fall as precipitation. Thus, clouds can be broken up, preventing rain where it would be damaging.

-:-

THIS PROCESS of above-clour seeding has the same effect on hail-bearing clouds. A big problem here, though, is spreading the seed rapidly enough from ground generators and planes. Small quantities of the chemical will only increase the amount of hail.

A safer approach is to spray the clouds early in their formation with salt drops so they will "rain out" before conditions are right for hail. Damage from hail in the United States amounts to more than $500 million a year.

MANY SCIENTISTS believe that lightning—which causes 75 per cent of the forest fires in the Rocky Mountains—is associated with mixed clouds bearng both ice and water. New evidence shows fewer fires started by thunderclouds seeded to remove water.

Scientists agree that these are only preliminary steps. Before man can control the weather, he must understand it. Weathermen admit that when they throw silver iodide into clouds they know as much about what they're doing—and have the same chance of success—as early Indian rain dancers.

But enough time and work have now gone into weather research to convince scientists that data from isolated tests will soon fall into place to produce a better understanding of the subject.

CHIEF ROADBLOCKS in the weather control timetable are the chronic shortage of trained weather scientists and the lack of funds.

The Naional Science Foundation (NSF is currently responsible for spearheading weather control research. It provides many university and field research grants and coordinates the work of several federal agencies. NSF's weather modification budget request is $1.5 million this year.

Learning what makes weather tick could lead to future control plans on a far grander scale. The following possibilities are deemed to have merit:

Sprinkling coal dust over the polar ice cap could absorb the sun's heat to melt it, turning the Alaskan tundra into prime farmland. But it might also flood New York, London and other low-lying areas.

Blasting the tops off the high peaks in the Rockies could change the course of the major air streams. The Arizona and Nevada deserts might become arable, but the fertile Midwest might become another Death Valley in the process.

A hurrciane aiming for the North Carolina coast might be diverted by blasting hydrogen bomb in its path. But this might only send the storm crashing into Maryland or Florida.

Scientists admit they sill have a lot to learn about nature's reactions to man-made intrusions.

Mercury Offers Two New Series

The 1964 Mercury extends its coverage of the medium-priced market by offering two new series and a choice of distinctive roof designs.

Mercury's two new series are the luxurious top-of-the-line Park Lane and the Montclair which is placed between the basic Monterey and the Park Lane. A new four-door fastback hardtop Marauder model is offered in all three series, and a Commuter four-door station wagon is added as a running mate to the highly styled Colony Park.

In addition to the new four-door Marauder, Mercury will offer in all three series the unique Breezeway roof with retracting rear window and the sporty two-door fastback hardtop Marauder first introduced last spring. The two-door Marauder has represented the Mercury in stock car auto races and set a new record in winning the Pike's Peak Auto Hill Climb on July 4.

The exclusive Breezeway design, introduced last year, offers several functional advantages in addition to distinctive appearance. In winter, the overhang keeps the rear window free of ice, snow and rain. In summer, it shades rear-seat passengers. The retractable window provides quieter, controlled ventilation for ever season.

Restyling of the Mercury grille, front fenders, bumpers, side trim and rear makes the 1964 models appear larger and racier.

Interiors are roomier with a deeper body which provides more seating comfort, more usable luggage space, and easier entrance and exit. Passenger comfort is improved further by a substantial reduction in the size of the transmission tunnel.

Luxurious interior trim and new instrument panel ornamentation typify Mercury's big-car appointments. New "shell" design bucket seats with full center console are optional in the Park Lane series.

The 1964 Mercury's six V-8 engines — two more than last year — range from 250 to 425 horsepower.

Fully synchronized three- and four-speed manual, three-speed dual-range automatic and four-speed manual transmissions are offered.

Structural changes make the Mercury more rigid, resulting in improved control of body shake, road harshness and vibration.

Re-tuning of the body chassis using softer rubber in all body mounts improves the ride. Larger tires and Mercury's proven Cushion-Link suspension contribute to the car's superior ride and handling.

New directional signal indicators are located on the top of the front fenders so they are visible to the driver.

A new glass backlite for convertible models allows the convertible top to be lowered without unzipping the back window.

Changes Proposed In Car Insurance Rating Plans

Plans for a major, country-wide overhaul of insurance rate structures for private passenger cars were announced today by the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters and the National Automobile Underwriters Association. The changes are proposed to become effective Jan. 1, 1965, in most states.

The two organizations are rating agencies for a large number of companies which write automobile insurance.

The changes, subject to approval by insurance supervisory authorities in each state, will mean lower premiums for many motorists, higher premiums for others.

Most widely affected will be lady drivers and young drivers — both male and female.

The major changes:

1. Age and marital status will become factors in setting premiums for women, as well as men.

2. Young male drivers will be rated according to their exact ages, instead of being grouped in the "under age 25" category, and unmarried male car owners aged 25 through 29 will find themselves newly designated as "youthful operators."

3. Married male drivers under age 25 will receive reduced rates in most cases; reductions for the older ones will be substantial.

4. For the first time, premiums for comprehensive insurance will be based on the age, sex and marital status of drivers, the use of the automobile and the driving records of the operators. These rating factors now apply to liability and collision insurance. Comprehensive coverage affords the owner insurance against loss or damage to his automobile from fire, theft, windstorm, hail, glass breakage, flood and additional perils.

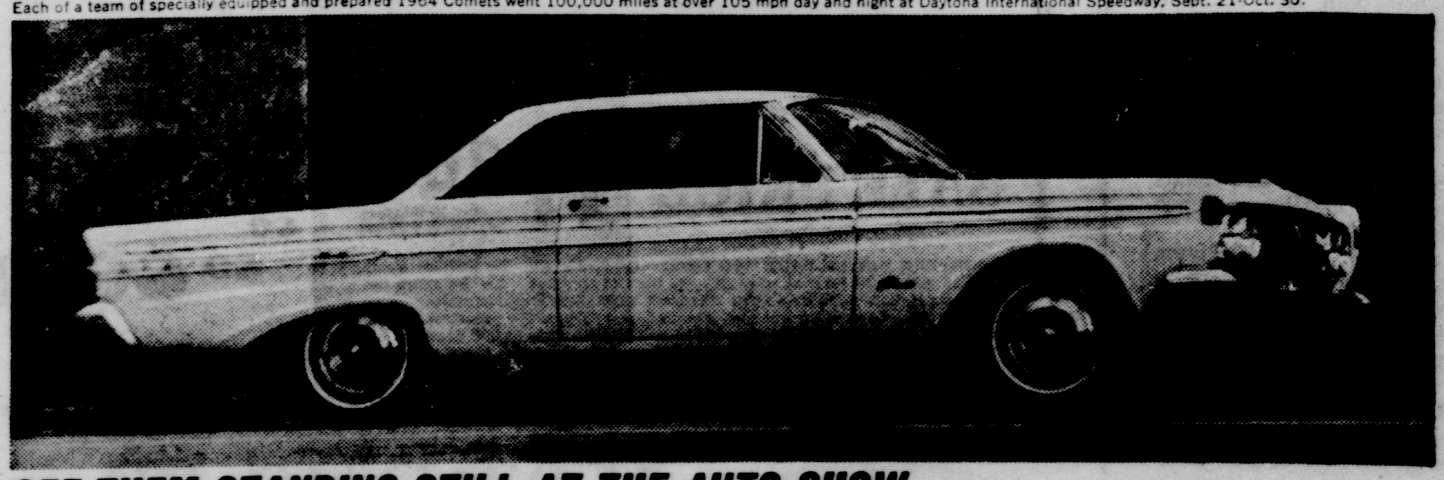

Basically, the new structure is a refinement of the present rating system, under which drivers are divided into classifications for the purpose of distributing insurance costs equitably.

Because of a burgeoning world economy, more and more foreign tourists are finding the time—and money—to visit the United States. And those who see this country like what they see and want to return, according to an eight-country study made by the United States Travel Service.

Visitors like U.S. cities best, but favorite attractions also include the place of natural scenic beauty.

Other favorites: science museums, resorts, art museums and historic buildings. But seeing the United States is expensive.A three-week vacation costs about $1,150, a travel burea found.

Chicago rates as the fifth-place tourist attraction.

New York City is the leading tourist attraction among prospects who have not visited the United States, but many visitors give San Francisco top billing.

The majestic splendor of the Rocky Mountains rates as a top scenic attraction. Foreign visitors also like Yellowstone and, naturally, Disneyland.

Washington, D.C., is the second-rated attraction. Most visitors find the city awesome and beautiful. This is a night scene of the Jefferson Memorial.

The Takiya Group, comprised of fourth grade girls, held a candlelight ceremonial recently using "friendship" as the theme.

Julie Robbins, Cathy Raymond, Mary Price, Lea and Lynn Landwert and Cheryl Hively participated.

Honor beads were awarded each girl telling "What friendship means to me."

At recent meetings each member made a "sit-upon" decorated with their individual symbolgrams; flowers were grown in containers decorated by the girls, and will be presented to patients in nursing homes, and miniature arrangements were made for their mothers.

Reviewing for rank and making the group symbolgram on ceremonial jackets are the current projects of the group.

Recent trips included McArtor's Greenhouse, Berlin Dam and the Purity Dairy at Beloit.

Takiwanka Group

Carol Seroka was recently elected president of the Takiwanka Group of Camp Fire Girls, and will be assisted by vice president, Bonnie Dunn; secretary, Alice Goddard; treasurer, Cindy Morrison, and scribe Patty Tolerton.

The group under the direction of guardians, Mrs. Roger Tuel and Miss Rosemary Sechler, presented a puppet play, "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" for Bluebird Group 48, recently using puppets hand made by the group. Special guests at the performance were Mrs. Amil Cosma, council president, and Mrs. Maurice Sechler.

HIGH SPEED

Plymouth rocks racing world with sweep in Daytona "500"

According to the record book for stock cars in competition, there is no higher average speed for 500 miles than the 154.334 m.p.h. set by a competition-equipped 1964 Plymouth in winning last month's Daytona "500."

Adding to that glory is the fact that two more 1964 Plymouths finished 2nd and 3rd for a decisive Plymouth sweep. That suggests that Plymouths were not only the swiftest cars in the competition, but that they're built to stay in there all the way.

For the millions of racing fans and high-performance enthusiasts across the country, Plymouth is proud of its "high speed" victory at Daytona.

YOUR SPEED

Plymouth beats Ford & Chevrolet in tests of showroom V-8s

This competition was more "your speed."

At Plymouth's request, an independent testing company bought and compared showroom models of Plymouth, Ford and Chevrolet.

The cars were comparably equipped standard V-8s—cars people buy. And the tests were of "things people buy a car for"—acceleration, handling, braking, and gas economy.

In test after test, Plymouth accelerated best, handled best, braked best, and got the best gas mileage. This is the kind of competition Plymouth most likes to win. "High speed" or "your speed," these 1964 Plymouths are tough to beat!

Restyling Keynotes 1964 Ford

Total performance in a completely restyled package, with three distinctive new roof lines and a roomier interior, keynotes the Ford for 1964.

All 16 models in the 1964 Ford lineup — including the uniquely styled 4-door hardtop models — are designed to combine an exterior look of greater luxury with luxury engineering features.

The new Ford has been redesigned inside as well to reduce the front compartment tunnel size by one-third and to increased headroom and seat height over 1963 by as much as an inch.

Weight of the 1964 Ford compares favorably with cars in the medium-priced field. The added weight results in a more solid, longer-lasting body, greater ruggedness and durability, and less road shock and noise.

New in the Ford power lineup for 1964 is a Thunderbird Special 352-cubic-inch V-8 with 4-barrel carburetion rated at 25 horsepower and offering both good performance and good economy on regular fuel. Five engine choices, four different transmissions and five rear axle ratios complete a choice of performance-economy options.

The versatile Cruise-O-Matic Dual Range three-speed transmission will be available for the first time in 1964 with all engines except the Thunderbird High-Performance 427.

The three-speed, manual-shift, all synchromesh transmission introduced last year is again standard on all 1964 Fords except 500-XL models and those powered by the Thunderbird High-Performance 427 CID V-8 engine. The fully synchronized forward gears permit smooth, effortless shifting — even into low gear when the car is moving — to make all three gears usable at appropriate car speeds as desired.

Added to the three-year or 36,000-mile major lubrication interval pioneered on the Ford last year are new extendedlife headlalmps. The "2424"total car warranty — for 24 months or 24,000 miles, whichever occurs first — is continued for the 1964 Ford.

The quality and luxury look of the 1964 Ford line is keynoted by a three dimensional, horizontal bar grille. Widely spaced dual headlamps and a full-depth and full wrap-around bumper give the cars a lower, wider and more massive front end appearance.

A sculptured metal treatment, suggestive of luxury and motion, carries from the rear deck into the rear body panel. The taillights continue the traditional round design but are newly styled for 1964.

A new roof line is introduced with the 4-door hardtop in Ford Galaxie 500 and 500XL models for 1964. Sedans, sports hardtops and 4-door hardtops now have individual roof styling to give each model a distinctive character.

The vinyl roof, optional on Ford Galaxie 500 and Ford Galaxie 500-XL 2-door hardtop models, adds to the already glamorous convertible look of this body style.

Inside, new, thin-shell, front bucket seats add to the glamorous appearance of the sporty Ford Galaxie 500-XLmodels. The seats provide improved comfort, take up less room and, due to the twin pedestal mount increase foot room in the rear compartment.

The ignition key has been moved to the right of the steering column for convenience and passenger accessibility in the event of an emergency. A new brushed metal instrument cluster and instrument panel applique texture is employed to accent the interior.

Auto Sales Boost Steel Production

CLEVELAND (AP) If advance buying for 1964 model runs by the automakers continues, this month will see a first-half peak in steel production and shipments, Steel magazine said today.

"Other big customers will continue buying at a brisk rate,' the weekly journal of metalworking said.

"Ingot output will exceed Aprils 10.5 million tons by 2 or 3 per cent and be the largest since May, 1963, Steel said. "This week's production will probably equal the 2.46 million tons steel estimated was made last week."

"Shipments will top April's estimated 7.2 million tons by a small margin and be the largest since last June's," the magazine predicted.

Steel imports were 909,795 tons in the first two months of 1962. But last year's record 5.45 million tons won't be equaled, Steel said, because:

European mills have hiked prices on flat rolled products, thus little, or no savings can be made by U.S. buyers.

Imports of reinforcing bars are downward, as domestic producers become more competitive.

European mills aren't offering much tonnage for export because they're enjoying excellent business at home.

Steel's price composite on No. 1 heavy melting steel rose 33 cents a ton to $31.66 last week, the magazine said.

Wide Choice In Olds 'Wagons'

One out of every eight new car buyers purchased a station wagon last year. According to industry figures, a total of 908,607 wagons were sold.

And at the present pace, station wagon sales could go over the million mark in 1964. Oldsmobile, for example, has increased its station wagon sales 24 per cent thus far in the 1964 model run.

For 1964, there is a wider choice of Oldsmobile station wagons than ever before. The newest of these is the Vista-Cruiser. With such features as raised dome roof styling and forward facing rear seat in three-seat models, the Vista-Cruiser offers new pleasure in station wagon travel.

There's much more cargo space in the 120-inch wheelbase Vista-Cruiser than in most station wagons - over 100-cubic feet, including a below deck storage compartment. Both standard and custom Vista-Cruisers are available in two- and three-seat models.

It's Coast to Coast For This Mercedes

NEW YORK (NEA)— Hollywood hasn't done right by our Mercedes (that's Mercedes McCambridge, not Mercedes Benz) and so she's back on the New York stage, involved nightly in that emotional experience called "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?"

"I was badly typed by Hollywood," she says. "I always played the person who acts like a man, thinks like a man, reacts like a man, but is a woman who has been badly treated by a man.

"The parts are all alike. Oh, the character may be a Southerner or a New Yorker or a westerner or from any place, but you could cut the dialogue out of one script and paste it in another and nobody would know the difference."

-:-

TELEVISION gave her a chance to be a bit different. She, Dane Clark and George Brent were rotating stars of a series which has run under such titles as "Deadline for Action" and "Wire Service." She played a world-roaming reporter.

"That is still being rerun," she says. "But I had a smart lawyer — hah! — who advised me not to accept residuals. Instead, I had a deal which bombed. Dane Clark still laughs at me whenever he sees me. Needless to say, I now have another lawyer."

Despite that fiscal fiasco, she isn't unhappy with her lot.

"I'm content with where I am in the world today,' she says. "After all, I'm not in jail, my son is alive when he has no right to be (he was badly injured twice in accidents), I have reasonable prospects of eating tonight and tomorrow.

"What more can a person want?"

STEVE LAWRENCE HAS made a large name for himself as Sammy in Broadway's new musical, "What Makes Sammy Run?" But he had a tough fight getting the part.

Ervin Drake, who wrote the songs for the show (including the big hit, "A Room Without Windows"), tells about the problems they went through finding the right Sammy.

"Many actors were considered for the role," Drake says. "We first wanted somebody like Jack Lemmon or Tony Curtis. But they were too big, too busy. Then we auditioned many people, like Larry Blyden who was so good on the television version. Then Bobby Darin; but he scowls all the time and people would hate him, and Tommy Sands and Sammy Davis Jr.

"Budd Schulberg, who wrote the book, wanted Sammy. He felt the time had come to forget color and just let him play the part. But Stuart, Budd's brother and collaborator, and I said no—no matter what we felt about it, the public just couldn't and wouldn't accept a Negro playing a Jewish boy from the Bronx.'

-:-

AND SO, eventually, they auditioned Steve Lawrence — several times — and ultimately he was given the plum part.

"Steve is great," Drake says. "He is becoming a sex symbol. It's funny, but it's true. He'll be a very big star."

Drake, who had written such pop hits as "I Believe," "Tico Tico," "Perdido' and "Come to the Mardi Gras," is represented on the Broadway musical stage for the first time with "What Makes Sammy Run?"

"I'll never forget opening night," he says. "I promised myself that I'd go out and get stoned. But when it happened, I was so busy and so excited that I forgot."

British Experts Blame Liberty Bell Crack On Defects

Bell Ringers Must Know the Ropes

By TOM A. CULLEN

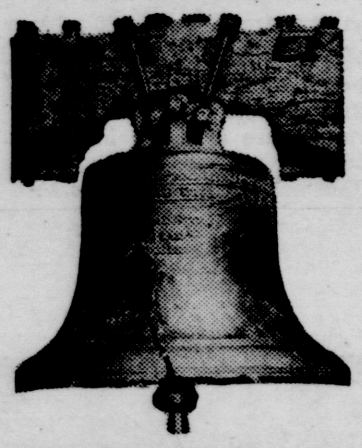

LONDON—(NEA) — To Americans the Liberty Bell is an almost sacred object of national veneration, but to a 394-year-old firm in Whitechapel, London, it is just another piece of defective merchandise.

The Whitechapel Bell Foundry, which was founded in 1570, is still smarting with humiliation because the Liberty Bell, which it cast in 1752, cracked the first time it was struck.

To make sure that no more of its products crack on American soil, the foundry is sending a 10-man team of British bell ringers to Washington, D. C., in May. Washington National Cathedral is dedicating its new central bell tower then, and the British bell ringers will not only demonstrate their skill, but teach Americans how to ring church bells properly.

THE BELL FOUNDRY'S interest in the project stems from the fact that it cast all 10 of the bells which hang in the cathedral's tower. The largest one, the tenor bell, weighs 3,400 pounds.

LIBERTY BELL: To a certain English firm, just another defective piece of merchandise.

The English bell ringers intend no impertinence. The truth is that America has no outstanding campanologists, the technical term for bell ringers. There is not even a bell foundry in the United States. In Britain, bell ringers are as common as drum majorettes in Texas.

"There is no shortage of American volunteers to learn the art of bell ringing," says Douglas Hughes, director of the Whitechapel Bell Foundry. "The trouble is that it cannot be learned overnight. It takes months of practice."

ONCE AMERICANS get the hang of the bell ropes, Hughes predicts that the pastime will be as popular in the states as it is here, where the bell ringers have their own fraternity and publish a monthly magazine, "The Ringing World."

According to Hughes, bell ringers frown on such electric gadgets as carillons, which play tunes and are operated from a keyboard. The true campanologist's motto is: "One man to one bell." The bell, itself, must be swung in a full circle of 360 degrees, and the art lies in seeing how many combinations — called "changes' — can be rung from one set of bells without repeating a pattern. (With 12 bells the number is astronomical.)

If Americans are backward as far as change-ringing is concerned, they are ahead of Britain when it comes to hand bell choirs. Nearly every American city of any size has at least one of these choirs, according to the foundry director.

NINETY-FIVE per cent of American hand bells come from the Whitechapel Bell Foundry and are tuned by Ernest Oliver, 49, whose family has been in the bell business for 250 years. Hand bells come in sets of 25 or 61 bells, the largest of which weighs 12 pounds.

In addition to the Liberty Bell, the Whitechapel foundry has cast such famous bells as Big Ben at the Palace of Westminster, the Bow Bells (any Londoner born within the sound of the Bow Bells is said to be a Cockney).

The Whitechapel firm declines to accept the entire responsibility for the defect in the Liberty Bell, which cracked the first time it was struck in 1753, was patched up, then cracked again in tolling the death of Chief Justice Marshall.

-:-

"THE LIBERTY BELL may have been roughly handled on its way to America in 1752," says Director Douglas Hughes. "Or again, the bell ringer may not have known what he was doing. If you strike a bell and do not allow it to vibrate, it is bound to crack."

To the accusation that the metal used in the Liberty Bell was too brittle, Hughes replies, "A bell must be brittle or it won't ring."

Olds

is available at extra cost.

Also bigger and roomier this year, Oldsmobile's F-85 station wagons provide 87.8 cubic feet of cargo space. These 115 - inch wheelbase wagons offer a choice of three engines: 155 h.p. Econ-O-Way V-6, Jetfire Rocket V-8 and the 290 h.p. Cutlass V-8.

Sleeklystyled and ruggedly - supported by Olds' Guard Beam frame, F-85 wagons sport a selection of five color - keyed vinyl interiors for the standard model and six in vinyl, or vinyl and cloth, for the deluxe model.

Also in Oldsmobile's station wagon line is the Dynamic 88 Fiesta, available in two- and three-seat models. Here again, there is a wide choice of engines, including 260 h.p. regular gas Rocket V-8, 280 h. p. Rocket and the 330 h.p. high performance Rocket.

Combining luxury with load-lugging ability, 123-inch wheelbase Oldsmobile Fiestas are quickly converted from passenger to cargo carriers. Seats are easily folded flush with the floor. Tailgates open level with the floor and a follow-board covering the hinge gap makes a smooth platform more than 10 feet in length.

In addition to a choice of 15 sparkling colors for 1964, Oldsmobile Fiestas present a variety of 12 different standard and custom interior trims.

All eight Oldsmobile station wagons feature one - piece tailgates that open down level with the floor. An electric rear window control, located on the instrument panel, is standard on the 3-seat Fiesta and available as an extra cost option on other models.

For sportsmen and outdoorsmen who travel the trails, a full complement of trailer-towing equipment is available f all Oldsmobile station wagons. Included are such specially designed options as superlift shock absorbers, heavy-duty automatic transmissions, special duty engine cooling, and a wide range of rear axle ratios to meet specific trailer hauling needs.

And for that extra touch of station wagon distinctiveness - the luggage carrier, Oldsmobile offers optional chrome rooftop carriers that have sturdy rails and flat racks for load support, nearly doubling the cargo capacity.

Motorists Warned Of Playing Tots

Motorists must be increasingly alert for children at play now that warmer weather and longer days are here, reminds A. P. Morris of the Columbiana County Motor Club.

"It has been a long time since many children, especially those of pre-school age, have had the freedom of being outdoors, either alone or with only an occasional check from parents," says the AAA official.

'All hours of the day require motorists to use added caution, but the greatest danger period will be during the evening rush hour when children of all ages are playing and motorists are in a hurry to get home.

"But the burden of a child's safety is not solely the motorist's." he added.

GM Profits Set Quarterly Record

NEW YORK (AP) — Booming automobile sales boosted General Motors Corp.'s profits in the first three months of this year to the highest level of any corporation in history.

GM reported Wednesday that its earnings spurted to $536 million, or $1.87 a share, from $414 million, or $1.45 a share, in the 1963 first quarter. The previous high was $506 million in the final quarter of 1963.

The figures exceeded by far the second-ranked money-maker American Telephone & Telegraph Co., which in the three months ended Feb. 29 earned $397,918,000, or $1.58 a share.

Rambler Grabs Big Share Of Market

Rambler is No. 1 in six-cylinder station wagon sales and No. 2 in total wagon sales in the U. S.

And for good reason, too. Ward Eckstein, manager of Buckeye Rambler Sales on S. Broadway, says that the new line of Ramblers not only gives a choice of two, four and five-door models and of two or three seats, but also offers optional reclining seats — ideal for families traveling with small children and for hunters and fishermen who want to get off the beaten path.

Other advantages include a hidden compartment for valuables in all Classic and Ambassador wagons, roof-top travel rack for additional cargo, and the many Rambler exclusives that apply to all body types —ceramic-armored exhaust system, double-safety brakes, deep-dip rustproofing and many others.

In 1963, Rambler's station wagon sales increased 16.1 per cent over the previous year, an increase nearly three times greater than the overall industry gain. Rambler station wagon sales now account for 31.5 per cent of all compacts on the market.

In patching plaster, stucco or similar materials, the patch will hold better if the crack or other opening is made into the shape of an inverted V—so that the crack is wider at the top than at the bottom. This can be effectively done by running a beer can opener along the crack.

Saturn Rocket....America's Biggest

GROUND VIEW — When seen from the ground and viewed up close, the Saturn rocket, America's biggest to date, is an awesome sight. At left, Saturn is being placed in a gantry at Cape Kennedy. The gantry structure supports the rocket until blast-off and is pulled away during the final moments before launching. The first of three sections of the Saturn is shown here being lowered into position. At right is an impressive view of the eight rocket engines of the Saturn's first stage from below. When this sixth of the Saturn rockets is launched, these eight rockets will lift a model of the three-man Apollo space ship into orbit around the earth. On the Saturn is pinned the U.S. hopes of landing men on the moon.

Stylish Chevrolets Popular With Many

Chevrolet believes that its 1964 models will once again win customer vote of confidence. It offers for 1964 a total of 35 new models in four distinctives lines of cars — each aimed at a specific segment of the market.

For 1964, significant styling changes have been made in the regular Chevrolets while the Chevy II and the Corvair have continued their unique automotive personalities.

The traditional big car emphasis upon luxurious transportation is continued in the 1964 regular Chevrolets, offered in 13 models in the Impala, Bel-Air and Biscayne series.

There is a sleek, longer look with all-new styling straight wind-whiled pillars improve access for drivers and passengers. Smooth, straight line styling gives the side of the new Chevy a flowing look of motion

The Impala sport sedan has a fleet, new roofline and an optional vinyl top is available for the Impala sport coupe. Fifteen solid colors and eleven two-tone combinations are available in the regular Chevrolets. Interiors of the cars are entirely new and more luxurious for 1964.

Chhevy II in its third year on the market continues the basic styling of the previous model with new exterior and intererior appointments. There are ten models in three series.

A new grille and wide hood and deck lid emblems give a more massive look to the car. The Chevy II has self adjusting brakes and Delcotron generators. Four and six cylinder engines again are offered.

Styling changes in the Corvair are confined to ornamentation and molding details. There are eight models of Corvair available.

The Corvette, in its 11th year on the market, remains little changed from 1963. Corvette offers opional steering, power brakes and air conditioning for the customer who wants a sports car but also wishes to retain the driving conveniences to which he has become accustomed to.

Interstate Roads Boon to Motorists

Motorists wanting to reduce highway travel time and distance should include all the Interstate and similar type highways possible in their routings, suggests A. P. Morris of the Columbiana County Motor Club.

The AAA official says that a recent study by the Ohio State Highway Patrol shows that motorists using freeways and other highways without stop signs, traffic lights and other factors that slow the traveler, can cut travel time by up to one-half, and sometimes more.

Citing specific examples, the AAA official notes the Patrol drove Interstate 90, between the Ohio - Pennsylvania line and downtown Cleveland, a 55-mile trip, in 53 minutes. The same trip over older U.S. 20, which parallels Interstate 90, covered 63 miles and took 126 minutes, or 73 minutes and eight miles more.

Another Patrol check was made on Interstate 71, between Columbus and Ohio 18 near Medina. This 104-mile trip was made in 90 minutes. Using older Ohio 3, a two lane highway, the trip was 111 miles, or seven miles more, and required 150 minutes, or one hour longer.

Cadillacs Shown At Auto Exhibition

The new high performance Cadillac power train shares the spotlight with exclusive comfort and convenience features as the 1964 Cadillac goes on display at the auto show here.

The performance gains result from a 429 cubic inch engine and new transmission, while the comfort and convenience story for 1964 is high lighted by the first fully automatic year around air conditioning system ever offered in an automobile.

Cadillac's 1964 styling reflects the appearance of greater size with a new grille, clean unbroken sides, tailored fins and broad rear design.

Cadillac's 11 models, one less than last year, are realigned in three basic series: three models are in the Sixty-Two series; four models, including the convertible, are in the de Ville series; and four models in the Fleetwood series. The short deck sedan is discontinued.

Over-all length is increased one-half inch to 223.5 inches on nine models and 243.8 inches on the Seventy-Five and Limousine. Other exterior dimensions remain unchanged.

All models are powered by the new engine.

Railroads' Payment In Taxes Is $300,000

Railroads provided more than $300,000 toward the cost of operating public schools and local governments in Columbiana County last year through property tax payments, it was reported today by J. E. Little, chairman of the Railroad Community Service Committee.

Schools received $211,047 — about 70 per cent — of the $305,905 total tax payment in the county, Litle said. The remainder went toward support of courts, police, fire and other service departments of local government.
